Sheneberger Named As Judge Candidate

F. C. Sheneberger, veteran Twin Falls attorney and resi- nt of the city 41 years, is the unanimous choice of the unty Republican central committee to occupy the probate urt bench, vacant since the death of Judge Everett M. weeley Monday. The central committee unanimously rec- mmended Sheneberger for the post at a meeting in the urthouse Friday night. The recommendation is being rwarded to the board of county commissioners for consideration. The commissioners in such cases almost always follow the recommendation of the central committee.

Sheneberger has been asked to appear before the board at 10 a.m. Monday.

Sheneberger, 57, was born at Rock Rapids, Ia. With his family he moved to Twin Falls in 1916 and was graduated from Twin Falls high school in 1920. He attended the University of Idaho and received his law degree at Georgetown university, Washington, D. C.

During his stay in the nation's capital, in 1925 and 1926, he was secretary of the senate foreign relations committee, at that time headed by the late Senator Borah. After returning to Idaho, Sheneberger enrolled at the University of Idaho for further schooling and later joined the legal department of the Aetna Life Insurance and the Aetna Casualty Insurance companies at Spokane, Wash.

He returned to Twin Falls in the fall of 1929 and began the practice of law he has maintained since with the exception of 18 months in 1933 and 1934 when he was called to Spokane for special title work with the federal land bank.

A one-time chairman of the Republican central committee in Twin Falls county, Sheneberger has not held previous judicial office.

Air Guard Jet Plane Chalks Up New Mark

BOISE, Sept. 7 (AP)—An Idaho air ational guard jet pilot whizzed m Hamilton field, Calif., to Boise 41 minutes today, shaving the vious official record by nearly lf an hour.

Lieut. Don Newbill of Boise would e made even better time, officers d, but he had to buck 35 mile- hour head winds. He flew at 00 feet in his F89 to avoid strong- winds further up. The speed run s part of Idaho's observance of e the 50th anniversary of the air rce.

The previous mark was set by j. William P. Coburn of Boise, he flew from Hamilton to Boise in hour and 16 minutes in 1948. He s piloting an F51.

No Strain

With the improvement in air- anes since then, reported Col. artin Johnson, a pilot can make tter time than that now just tak- g it easy. Hamilton field is at San afael, north of San Francisco.

Newbill took off from the Cali- rnia field at 12:01 p.m. (PST) and nded at Gowen field in Boise at 1 p.m. (MST). Officials worked out as an average of 600 miles an ur.

Newbill, a native of Nyssa, Ore., w to Hamilton this morning. In ition to the official observance, cidentally, he had a private reason to celebrate. His first child, a s born yesterday.

The speed run was the second o in Idaho's aniversary observ- e. Col. Leon W. Gray, deputy mmander of the ninth air division, w here from Geiger field in Spo- ne yesterday in 25 minutes, flying F102 interceptor at 716 miles an ur. Gray blew a tire in landing, t otherwise came in safely. Newbill ded without incident.

T.F. County Fair Attendance Near 20,000 Paid Total

FILER, Sept. 7—When the wraps were put back on the Twin Falls county fair for another year Saturday night, approximately 20,000 persons had paid admissions to attend the four-day event. This figure does not include the scores of persons who attended the fair on passes as exhibitors, contestants and service personnel. Fair officials say the attendance figure is roughly 10 per cent over the paid attendance last year. On the first day of the fair there were 3,000 paid admissions and 900 automobiles. The second day saw 10,000 paid admissions and 3,300 automobiles. On the third day there were 6,500 paid spectators and 1,700 automobiles. The Saturday crowd was reported at 7,500.

Jay Cobb, livestock superintendent, said the quality of animals exhibited this year was the best in seven years. He said 4-H club and FFA members seemed to take greater interest in their exhibits and that the judges had a chore picking the winners.

For the first time this year an award was made to a 4-H club having the best decorated livestock exhibit. The Pleasant Valley 4-H club was announced as winner Saturday afternoon. The Twin Falls Exchange club's annual award for the nearest booth went to the Sunnyside 4-H club, Buhl.

In the special open fat steer class of judging Saturday morning, Ray Peterson, 13, Buhl, a member of the Farmers and Farmerettes 4-H club, with a medium weight Aberdeen Angus, was given the grand championship over 34 other entries. Dee Patrick, Three Creek, a member of the Three Creek 4-H club, was declared reserve champion with a Hereford steer.

Overall winners in the calfroping event at the rodeo were Lowell Taylor, Nampa, 32.8 seconds, first; Jerry Swanson, Lyman, Colo., 34.4 seconds, second; Marty Epps, Magnalina, N. M., 35.3 seconds, third, and Dick Knight, Yuma, Ariz., 35.7 seconds, fourth.

In the bulldogging event, aggregate winners were Ross Hefner,

False Alarm

Gooding and Twin Falls county deputy sheriffs were called Friday to investigate a report of an automobile plunging 200 feet into the Snake river from the north rim of canyon south of Wendell across from the Crystal Springs orchard.

The information came from an unidentifed fisherman who said he saw the car go over the rim. The fisherman was on the south side of the river.

Deputies finally determined that the witness saw garbage and debris being dumped from a truck.

Report Shows $8,479 Given Cancer Drive

Twin Falls county residents donated $8,479.25 in the 1957 cancer drive in Twin Falls county, Mrs. Harry Elcock, county treasurer, reported Saturday.

Almost one-third of the county total was listed under residential contributions in Twin Falls where Mrs. Elcock and Mrs. E. C. Degenhardt were co-chairmen.

The 1957 total was $47.67 more than the total donated last year, Mrs. Elcock said.

Communities, their chairmen and total donations included Buhl, Mrs. L. B. Tilley, $1,452.90; Castleford, Mrs. Laurence Sill, $313.69; Filer, Mrs. Don Albin, $540.27; Hansen, Mrs. Chloe R. Weech, $335.60; Hollister, Mrs. A. E. Kunkel, $152.46; Kimberly, Mrs. J. D. Claiborn, $527.57; Murtaugh, Mrs. Alvin Konicek, $491.25; Rock Creek, Mrs. George Henry, $99.85, and Twin Falls, $4,565.46.

County totals by classifications includes memorials $211.70, residential $5,993.20, business $1,910.89, employes $10.86, coin cans $32.72, tags $108.40 and clubs and organizations $211.50.

Approval for Higher Rates Is Requested

BOISE, Sept. 7 (AP)—Intermountain Gas company applied to the Idaho public utilities commission late yesterday for permission to pass on an increase in pipeline rates for natural gas to some of its industrial customers.

Rulon Larsen, PUC utilities director, said the increase proposed by Intermountain would apply to those industrial customers using interruptible power.

Intermountaid distributes in Idaho gas which it purchases from Pacific Northwest Pipeline corporation. PNP has applied for a rate increase totaling $5,500,000, but the federal power commission suspended $3,800,000 of this.

The FPC allowed $1,700,000 in increases in gas for industrial purposes to go into effect. Stan Day, Intermountain district manager in Pocatello, said the company proposed to pass the increase to the manufacturers at cost.

Vance Handed New State Post

BOISE, Sept. 7 (AP)—The new Idaho veterans affairs commission Saturday employed as its executive secretary the former Idaho adjutant of the American Legion, Samuel E. Vance, jr., Boise.

Vance served as state Legion adjutant 13 years until his defeat for the post at this year's convention election by Lou Babb, also of Boise.

The new commission was formed by action of the last Legislature to replace the old veterans welfare commission.

Major change in the new law was the removal of a requirement that the state Legion adjutant serves executive secretary. While he was adjutant, Vance also served as secretary.

Casualties From Typhoon Counted

TOKYO, Sept. 7 (AP) — Rain-drenched southern Japan today counted four dead, 25 injured, 12 missing and 24,000 persons homeless in the wake of typhoon "Bess."

Police reported 912 houses were destroyed and 1,522 severely damaged by the 115-mile winds that raked the southern island of Kyushu most of today.

Hit-Run Driver Is Sought as Victim, 2, Termed Critical

A 2-year-old Twin Falls girl was in critical condition Saturday night after being struck down by a hit-run driver about 7 p.m. in the 100 block of Shoup avenue west. The child, Diane Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dixon, Graceman Auto courts, has a fractured skull, severe lacerations about the head and face and abrasions about the legs and body. The little girl was dressed in a sun suit and carrying a baby bottle partially filled with milk. Police believe she crossed the road from the auto courts headed for the swings at Memorial Lutheran school. She was found at the side of the road in a pool of blood. The nippled bottle was found about six feet from the child in the road. A police officer held the child in his arms and raced his patrol car to Magic Valley Memorial hospital.

The report of the child lying beside the road was telephoned to the police station at 7:05 p.m. by Mrs. Macie Cole, 283 Heyburn avenue west. She was driving along Shoup avenue and saw the little girl lying in a pool of blood.

City and state police rushed to the accident scene and began an investigation. Questioning of residents in the area turned up three children who had seen a car pass along Shoup avenue west in a westerly direction about the time the accident is believed to have happened.

The children told police they saw a speeding car which stopped about where the baby was found. They said the car stopped, backed up a little, then drove away at high speed in the direction of Lutheran school.

Police also obtained a description of a sedan which ran a stop sign onto Addison avenue west between Five Points west and the old hospital building about 7 p.m. The car turned west toward Filer and was driven away at high speed.

Police Chief Howard Gillette said, "The identity of the driver of this car will become known to police. It would be to the driver's advantage to make a voluntary report of the incident now."

Police were checking other leads to the car and identity of the driver Saturday night.

Two brothers of the Dixon girl, one 11 years old and the other 8, had crossed the road from Graceman's Auto courts to get to the coulee to fish a few minutes before the accident occurred. They told police they were going to fish but did not know their baby sister was following them. Neither Dixon boy saw the car.

Police say the car which struck the child was traveling west from Washington street toward the school. They also say that the light at 7 p.m. was good and that at that time the sun should not have blinded the driver.

Blood Stains; Baby Bottle Mark Hit-Run Scene Here

Traffic Patrolman Cliff Sharp examines blood stains in the grass along the north side of Shoup avenue west in the 100 block where 2-year-old Diane Dixon was found lying in a pool of blood shortly after 7 p.m. Saturday. The child was the victim of a hit and run driver. She was struck down as she carried a bottle partially filled with milk, circled at left. The child was in critical condition late Saturday in Magic Valley Memorial hospital where she was rushed by police. (Staff photo-engraving)

Pilot Is Fined Over Low Flying Charge

BURLEY, Sept. 7—Matthias Wayne Koch, 24, Pocatello, was fined $200 Friday by Justice of the Peace Joe Weldon on a charge of reckless and low flying in an airplane over Burley on July 12. Judge Weldon gave Koch until Wednesday to pay the fine.

Koch was arrested on a complaint signed by State Patrolman Marvin Snyder after Snyder had received several telephone calls that the airplane had passed beneath a street light in the southwest section of the city.

The Pocatello flier, who is a crop duster working for the Gate City Crop Dusting service, pleaded innocent when he was arraigned before Judge Weldon on July 17. At that time he said he had a CAA waiver to fly low.

Trail was set for Aug. 8 and then postponed to Friday. He appeared Friday with his attorney and changed his plea to guilty.

Middle East Rulers Conferring on Syria

BEIRUT, Lebanon, Sept. 7 (AP) — King Saud of Saudi Arabia flew unexpectedly to Beirut today and promptly went into talks with President Camille Chamoun on Syria's swing toward the Soviet orbit. The monarch apparently sought a first-hand report on Soviet penetration in the Arab nation. Within an hour after his arrival, King Saud was in conference with Chamoun. He ordered the Saudi Arabian ambassador to Baghdad to rush to Beirut tonight.

In the past three weeks, the pro-communist shift in Syria has increased steadily.

Syria's anti-communist neighbors—Lebanon and Iraq—are worried that so-called trade agreements between the Soviet union and Syria are giving the Russians their long-sought outpost in the Middle East.

The United States recognizes these fears and is shipping arms to Syria's three Arab neighbors and Turkey. An airlift of U.S. weapons to Jordan started today.

King Saud's visit caught Lebanon by surprise. President Chamoun got word of the visit in his summer home in the Lebanon mountains only 12 hours before the monarch's arrival.

Chamoun left hastily for Beirut to meet the King. Saud received

Two Soldiers Draw Penalty

FT. CARSON, Colo., Sept. 7 (AP)—Two enlisted soldiers accused of mistreating trainees were sentenced by a special court-martial board yesterday.

Pvt. Udell Williams, jr., 23, Chicago, who pleaded guilty to four counts of assault, was fined $50 a month for six months.

Spec. 2/c Robert E. Neeley, 28, Pelzer, S. C., was sentenced to five months in the stockade and fined $65 a month for five months. He also was reduced to private. Neely was convicted on two court counts of assault.

Denver Beauty Is Chosen as Miss America in Yearly Fete

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 7 (AP)—Marilyn Elaine Van Derbur, tall, blond, green-eyed organist from Denver, Colo., tonight was selected Miss America of 1958.

The 5-foot, 8½-inch, 20-year-old beauty, former University of Colorado student, beat out 50 other contestants for the title worth $60,000 to $85,000 in scholarships and personal appearance fees. Miss Van Derber, a music lover, swimmer and skier, measures 35-25-36.

She was enthroned by last year's winner, Marian Ann McKnight of Manning, S. C., before a nationwide television audience and a Convention hall crowd of 20,000.

Jody Elizabeth Shattuck of Atlanta, Ga., a 20-year-old blue-eyed blond, was chosen first runner-up and won a $3,000 scholarship.

Mary Nancy Denner, a brown-eyed brunet of 21 from Alva, Okla., was second runnerup and awarded a $2,500 scholarship.

Lorna M. Anderson, 18-year-old blond from Sacramento, Calif., was given third place and Miss Florida, Dorothy Marie Steiner, 20, of Boca Raton, was fourth runnerup. Both received $2,000 scholarships.

The new Miss America was presented her crown, scepter and robe by Miss McKnight. Miss Van Derber then walked down the 120-foot runway in Convention hall before a wildly applauding audience.

The judges awarded $1,000 scholarships to winners in the following categories:

The most talented dancer—Miss Nebraska, Catherine L. Nielson of Lincoln.

The most talented pop singer—Miss Connecticut, Susan Elizabeth Lightbown of Fairfield.

The most talented classical or semi-classical singer—Miss Idaho, Carena LaRae Clark of Pocatello.

15 Drivers Fined in Magic Valley Courts

Fifteen drivers have been fined in Magic Valley courts on various traffic violations and two more have been arrested and are to appear later. The two who have not appeared are charged with negilgent driving. Those who have appeared include three on charges of drunken driving, four on charges of speeding, four on charges of running through stop signs or lights, two on negligent driving charges and one each on charges of following another vehicle too close and failure to yield the right of way.

Claude P. Jones, 884 Fairway drive, Twin Falls, and David C. Shaw, 511 Falls avenue, Twin Falls, were cited for negligent driving Friday evening by State Patrolman H. E. Carr who charged the pair with "dragging" to a fast start at the traffic signal on Shoshone street and Sixth avenue east. The men, to appear in Twin Falls justice court, were cited about 6:15 p.m. Patrolman Carr said he saw them "drag" their cars side by side on Shoshone street as the traffic signal changed in their favor.

Paul M. Sloan, 16, 354 Maurice street north, paid a fine of $10 and $3 costs in Twin Falls justice court Saturday morning on a stop sign violation. The youth was cited by Patrolman Carr about 1 a.m. Saturday one-half mile west of Twin Falls on highway 30.

A fine of $100 and $3 costs was levied against Edward James Bovee, 47, Pocatello, by Twin Falls Police Judge J. O. Pumphrey Saturday for driving while intoxicated. Bovee's license is suspended automatically for one year. He was arrested by city police on Main avenue east.

Pleading guilty of following too closely to another car, Robert L. Engelman, 734 Morningside drive, Twin Falls, was fined $20 and $3 costs by Police Judge Pumphrey Saturday. A charge of failure to yield the right-of-way resulted in a fine of $15 and $3 costs in police court against Richard Johnson, 383 Madison street, Twin Falls.

Earlier in the week, Ray Crist who was sentenced to three months in

Five Arrested In McCall as Youths Brawl

McCALL, Sept. 7 (AP) — Police and two deputized smokejumpers arrested five young McCall men early today after battling hand to hand for some 15 minutes with a group of youths assembled in a McCall street.

The five were charged with resisting arrest and striking an officer. They pleaded innocent before Probate Judge H. V. McMaster in Cascade. They were released on $100 bond each, pending preliminary hearing on Oct. 2.

Later, warrants were issued charging two other youths with disturbing the peace. They were identified as Ralph Turner, 20, and Bob Stevens, 19, both of McCall.

Officer Accosted

Police Chief Francis Petrie said the disturbance began when one of the youths threatened and accosted an off-duty policeman, Granville Balke, at Lola's cafe in McCall.

He said Balke's assailant "went back and got six or seven of his friends." At the time, Petrie was at the city jail booking Webster Robinson, 28, of Boise, on a charge of reckless driving.

The chief said the ensuing fracas lasted about 15 minutes. No weapons were used and no one was injured seriously, although some of the young men ended up with cut lips and one lost a tooth.

Five Jailed

The five, who were lodged briefly in the Valley county jail at Cascade, were identified as Tom Dooly, 20, recently discharged from the army; his brother, Gene, 19; Melvin Heter, 20; his brother, Elmo, 22; and Arthur Donica, also 22.

Petrie said there had been several instances of reckless driving last night and some lesser disturbances during the past week. The fight occurred about 1:30 a.m. and the men were arraigned in Cascade some two hours later.

23 Persons Dead In Rail Accident

NIMES, France, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Paris-Nimes Express, crowded with returning holidaymakers, jumped a switch at 60 miles an hour at the Nozieres station today and 23 persons perished.

Six passengers were found dead in the wreck. The rest died in a hospital. At least 20 others are hospitalized, some with grave injuries.

Flower Show Draws Large Valley Crowd

RUPERT, Sept. 7—Rupert's largest flower show, both from a standpoint of spectators and entries, was held Saturday at the civic auditorium under the sponsorship of the Rupert Women's club.

Show officials said there were 753 entries this year compared to 621 last year. There was no accurate count made of the number of spectators but officials connected with the show said the show drew the largest crowd in its history.

Entries were accepted up to 11 a.m. and the flowers were judged from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. The show closed at 7 p.m.

Judges were Mrs. Earl Peck, Mrs. Alva Jay and Mrs. Al Hankins, all Twin Falls, and Mrs. William Henscheld and D. O. Hyde, both Rupert.

In charge of the show were Mrs. Ada Endter, chairman, Mrs. Roland Jones, Mrs. Joan Cameron, Mrs. Thomas Maberly, Mrs. Russell Bowman, Mrs. Lila Benedict, Mrs. Von

Contract Given

IDAHO FALLS, Sept. 7 (AP) — The atomic energy commission said today Cushman and Johnson of Blackfoot has been awarded an $11,970 contract for drilling, casing and testing a well in connection with the Argonne boiling water reactor at the national reactor testing station.

Idaho Democrats Say Federal Dam Now May Be Dead Issue

LEWISTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Idaho's two Democrats in congress have agreed that setbacks suffered by legislation for a proposed federal Hells Canyon dam may turn out to be fatal.

In separate interviews as they arrived for the Lewiston Roundup, Sen. Frank Church and Rep. Gracie Pfost criticized President Eisenhower on grounds he failed to provide strong leadership.

They said the Democratic-led congress cut the President's budget by $4,900,000,000, and said this was a good thing. They agreed that Democrats in congress may push for a tax cut next year.

Church said that had it not been for the jury trial amendment to the civil rights bill, "there is no doubt that there would have been a long and bitter fillibuster, with every liklihood that the bill would have been talked to death."

Church was one of the sponsors of the amendment.

They had these things to say about the President's leadership:

Mrs. Pfost—"The school bill failed because the President did not come out with strong enough leadership." She referred to the administration-backed bill for federal aid to education.

Church—"He was extremely indecisive on almost every major issue, beginning with the budget and ending with the civil rights bill, so that congress was in a quandry as to what the President really stood for."

"Washington was stunned when he admitted in a press conference, after the civil rights bill had passed the house and was pending before the senate, that he had read it only the night before and confessed that he didn't understand some of its provisions."

Utahn Named Kiwanis Club District Head

(From Page One)

Tucker of Gallup, N. M., addressed a governor's dinner tonight.

Tucker urged greater participation in political life. He said:

"Our country was founded on the idea that participation by the individual is most necessary to insure freedom. The 'let-George-do-it' attitude is completely wrong."

A Utah fellowship earlier in the day was addressed by Reed C. Culp, Salt Lake City, immediate past president of Kiwanis International.

Culp said, "The strongest force we have in society today is the value of "one-man power, not segregated groups. It is every man using his talent to the best of his ability."

Elder Marion D. Hanks, First Council of Seventy, Latter-day Saints church, will be guest speaker tomorrow at the annual worship and memorial service.

The convention will adjourn tomorrow afternoon following the Idaho fellowship luncheon.

District officers elected Saturday included J. Clark Elmer, Payson, Utah, district 1; Harrison S. Brothers, Bonneville Club, Salt Lake City, District 2; Clark Hillman, Brigham City, Utah, District 3; Joe Armstrong, Idaho Falls, District 4; Theron Ward, Jerome, Idaho, District 5; Max Yost, Boise, District 6; and Bill Bishop, Delta, Utah, District 7.

Pay Increase Plans Killed By President

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—President Eisenhower killed by pocket veto today two bills which would have granted postal and civil service employes pay raises totaling 817 million dollars.

He said both measures would "contribute unnecessarily" to inflation and require an increase in the 275-billion dollar ceiling on the public debt.

Both houses of congress had given the bills heavy majorities, even though administration leaders warned they faced a certain veto.

Eisenhower said arguments that the pay raises were justified by spiralling living costs "have not been sustained."

Recalling that he has ordered a study of the federal pay structure, he promised, however, that he would recommend "logical, fair and discriminating" salary increases to the next session of congress if the study warrants it.

"Government cannot in good conscience ask private business and labor leadership to negotiate wage adjustments with full regard to the whole nation's interest in price stability while at the same time approving the enactment of these wholesale salary increase bills," Eisenhower said.

In recent weeks, he has appealed several times to business and labor leaders to show restraint in increasing prices and wages in the battle against inflation.

The postal pay bill would have granted 500,000 postal employes an across-the-board pay raise of 12½ per cent.

Estimates of the cost varied. Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland, Calif., placed it at 317.5 million dollars, but Sen. Richard L. Neuberger, D., Ore., who backed the bill, said the cost would be 279 million a year.

The bill would have given a $546 a year salary raise to all field service employes except rural carriers and fourth class postmasters. Postmasters were earmarked for flat 12 per cent hikes while rural carriers would have received pay adjustments in line with field employes.

Bids Called for Work on Project

BOISE, Sept. 7 (AP)—Bids will be opened Sept. 20 by the federal bureau of public roads on a highway project north of Ketchum.

The bureau said it is asking for bids for grading and oiling—10.1 miles of U.S. highway 93 and the building of a 107-foot reinforced concrete bridge.

The project will complete an oiled highway to the Redfish lake junction in Stanley basin.

only a minimum of the pomp usually accorded visiting Arab dignitaries. Then he and his party of four set up lodgings in a wing of the Bristol hotel—not one of Beirut's luxury hotels.

Saud himself apparently decided at the last minute to make the trip. He was scheduled to visit Lebanon but not until October. He plans to stay in Beirut two days and then go on to Switzerland.

Saud, a friend of the United States, comes to Lebanon close behind a visit by Loy Henderson, U. S. State Dept., trouble-shooter.

Henderson is back in Washington and has reported to Secretary of State Dulles that the situation in Syria is serious. His report prompted the arms shipments to Syria's neighbors.

In Damascus, meanwhile, the leftist Syrian government also appeared jittery.

Akram Hourani, who has emerged from the Syrian crisis as the real power in Damascus, warned that "any attack on Syria might lead to a world war."

Judge Orders Lowering for Race Barrier

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 7 (AP)—A federal judge tightened the South's racial battle lines today with a sharp-tongued rejection of a plea to postpone integration at Little Rock Central high school where armed troops have kept Negro students away this week. Judge Ronald N. Davies of North Dakota acidly called the plea of the Little Rock school board to delay integration because of a week of turmoil and strife "anemic" and left his previous order for immediate integration intact.

Governor Faubus Monday night called out the Arkansas national guard to keep Negroes away from the 2,000-pupil school claiming he was preventing violence and disorder.

President Eisenhower and Atty. Gen. Brownell discussed the explosive Little Rock situation in Washington today and later Press Secretary James Hagerty said it would be fair to say they discussed possible alternative actions depending on the next development in the case.

Wednesday, the guardsmen stopped nine Negro teen-agers from entering.

Negro leaders today said they could not say what action they would take. They refused to say whether they planned to advise Negroes to enter the school Monday.

National guardsmen kept watch at Central high school and the governor's mansion.

"I have a constitutional duty and obligation from which I shall not shrink," the judge said in clipped and precise tones as he read today's decision.

"In organized society," said Judge Davies, "there can be nothing but ultimate confusion and chaos if court decrees are flaunted, whatever the pretext."

Judge Davies scoffed at the governor's claims that violence was near before he called out the guard.

"The chief executive of Little Rock (Mayor Woodrow Mann) has stated that the Little Rock police have not had a single case of interracial violence reported to them and that there has been no indication from sources available to him that there would be violence in regard to this situation."

Mann, who has blasted Baubus' summoning of guardsmen as a hoax and political maneuver, today asked the Arkansas attorney general for an official ruling on the mayor's municipal law enforcement powers.

Mann said that large crowds milling around the high school in the past week have created a powder keg which he said could be set off "by a planned incident."

The mayor obviously was attempting to find a way to regain police control over the area.

School Superintendent Virgil T. Blossom said no new orders would be given the nine Negro students.

"They have their orders from the court," he said.

Later the school board issued a statement saying that in view of the court's decision "the integration plan is still in effect and Little Rock Central high school will be opened Monday for all students."

The South's interest was shown by three Alabama state officers who attended the court sessions.

The entire court proceedings required less than 18 minutes in two sessions, in the light green, oak-paneled courtroom in Little Rock's federal building.

Market Rises on Harvest 'Holiday'

EMMETT, Sept. 7 (AP)—An announced suspension of prune harvesting caused an improvement in the market even before it went into effect at noon today, the secretary of the Gem Fruit union reported.

George L. Yost said he was unable to say to what extent the market had responded, but it did show an improvement. Farmers in much of southwestern Idaho agreed not to harvest prunes between noon Saturday and Monday morning because of market conditions.

During the 51-day season in 1956, 10,927 deer were killed in New Hampshire.

Padgett succeeded Allan Shepard, who resigned to enter private law practice in Boise.

Smylie Seeks Federal Help On Road Job

BOISE, Sept. 7 (AP)—Idaho's governor has asked the secretary of agriculture to help push to completion the last few miles of the Lewis-Clark highway in north-central Idaho.

In a letter to Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, Gov. Robert E. Smylie said:

"The benefits to the forest service alone in opening all of the country for the harvest of timber would be almost incalculable."

The forest service is a branch of the department of agriculture. About 13 miles of the highway remain to be built across the Lolo pass of the Clearwater national forest.

The road, following the route Lewis and Clark took on their northwest exploration, would provide an eventual transcontinental link across Idaho.

Smylie said northcentral Idaho would benefit economically because the road would enable processing in Idaho mills of much Idaho timber now being processed in Montana on the eastern side of the Bitterroot mountains.

The governor also said in providing an exit for major northwest population centers in event of nuclear fallout, the need for the road is "a matter of simple survival."

Smylie asked Benson to obtain the help of the forest service in getting authorization for early completion of the highway and the funds to build the last link.

AEC Plans to Fire Bomb in Earth Studies

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 7 (AP)—The United States stole a march on Russia yesterday when the atomic energy commission announced a small atomic bomb would be exploded at the Nevada testing grounds to assist seismologists to study the structure of the earth's interior.

The bomb, which will explode with a force of approximately 10,000 tons of TNT, will be detonated on Sept. 14. The explosion will be 800 feet underground at the end of a tunnel cut into the side of a mountain.

The announcement was made here by Professor K. E. Bullen of Australia, president of the International Association of Seismology at the 11th general assembly of the International Union of Geodesy and Geophysics. Details were contained in a cable to Bullen from Dr. W. F. Libby of the AEC.

"This is the first time exact information has been issued in advance about an atomic test," Bullen said. "This announcement promises a new era of co-operation between the atomic energy commission and seismologists throughout the world."

On the opening day of the conference Bullen proposed that the United States, the United Kingdom and Soviet Russia set off four atomic bombs so that the inside of the earth could be studied.

This suggestion was given a flat rejection by Dr. Vladimir Belousov, one of Russia's leading geophysicists, who said: "Any and all atomic bomb tests should be stopped because they are certainly dangerous."

Belousov proposed instead that explosions caused by conventional methods should be recorded by hypersensitive instruments.

However, the great advantage of the Nevada A-bomb is that seismologists will have advance warning of its exact position, time and strength. The announcement by AEC said that if for any reason detonation was delayed for two minutes the explosion would be postponed for 24 hours.

Potential for Use of Forest Termed Great

OGDEN, Sept. 7 (AP)—The forest service says the Intermountain area has opportunities for vastly expanded timber development.

In a report prepared by S. Blair Hutchison just issued by the Intermountain Forest and Range Experiment station, the forest service says:

Big Capacity

"In 1950, some 25,000 persons were employed by the timber industry in the mountain states, but the forests have capacity to support at least six times that many on wood industry payrolls."

As the nation's population increases, Hutchison says, so will the demand for lumber, wood plup materials and other forest products.

Demand Continues

Hutchison said "especially high continuing demand for Douglas-fir, Ponderosa pine and white pine is certain. Increased use of spruce and lodgepole pine has already occurred and will continue, especially as supplies of other soft-textured woods diminish."

The report also said that woods grown in the Intermountain area have an impressive potential in rapidly expanding demands for paper pulp and other wood-fiber products.

PTA Meets

GLENNS FERRY, Sept. 7 — The new attendance policy was explained by School Supt. Albert Shultz at the first meeting of the PTA executive meeting this week.

TAXES, DEBT AND INFLATION

How many American people have any real conception of the enormous tax load they are carrying and the over-all effect it is having upon their country?

They could be reminded, for instance, that taxes for 1956 came to a staggering total of more than 100 billion dollars—that the U. S. treasury received 70 billion dollars and state and local governments the remaining 30 billion.

In another way it could be explained this means the cost of government is consuming about one-third of the national product which is the sum of all goods and services by the entire population of the United States.

It could be pointed out further that our government this coming year proposes to spend as much as all the other governments of the world put together.

With even more significance, it could be emphasized that the tax load has become so heavy it now constitutes the greatest single cost of living. It is so heavy in relation to total income that most of the burden necessarily falls on the people at the middle and low income levels. For families at average income levels that burden, including hidden taxes, amounts to about 30 per cent of family income!

Even with all these facts called to the average taxpayer's attention, it is doubtful if he would comprehend all the related implications.

When a constitutional amendment made our present progressive system of income tax legal in 1913 there were some who feared its ultimate effect. Economist David Wells called progression "unmasked confiscation." When the attorney, Joseph Choate, suggested the income tax conceivably could go to 50 per cent or higher, none other than Idaho's own Sen. William E. Borah protested. "Whose equity, sense of fairness, or justice . . . does he (Choate) question?" asked Borah, one of the nation's greatest statesmen. The thought that the income tax would rise to such a level, Senator Borah felt, was ridiculous.

Little did he realize that the top brackets of the progressive income tax would eventually be raised to 91 per cent for individuals and 52 per cent for corporations! Or that total income taxes collected annually in the United States would be equivalent to $2,400 for each of the nation's 42 million families!

In a statement just released, Sen. Harry F. Byrd, the nation's foremost opponent of excessive taxation, points out that "the terrible federal debt is now bumping the 275 billion dollar statutory ceiling." He appeals to the American people for support in fighting "any further increase in the debt limit short of dire national emergency."

If Senator Borah were still alive, either his thinking would have changed radically or he would be very much alarmed. He would realize that our present tax laws are curtailing individual incentive, discouraging risk-venture investments, fanning the flames of inflation and thus threatening to slow or cripple the nation's potential for growth.

No one doubts that the cost of government services essential to the growing nation must remain high, but it is high time also for every American to realize the rate of taxation must be kept well behind the rate of advance in production if our standard of living is to continue growing.

Progression in the individual income tax rates has been carried about as far as is arithmetically possible under the present system of taxation—to a point that if all income over $10,000 were completely confiscated, the additional revenue would only amount to about 4 billion dollars, which is peanuts in Washington's present craze for spending.

As the DuPont company, one of our greatest industrial and research concerns, has reasoned: "If the United States is to realize its potential for growth, our future tax structure must encourage, rather than retard, individual accomplishment; it must sustain, rather than handicap, the creative forces which have produced so abundantly. Tax requirements must be filled without paralyzing our economic advance or restricting our opportunities."

There are other reasons for the American people to be demanding immediate relief from all kinds of taxation. Inequities are not the only fault of our system of government, by any means. Uncontrolled spending, waste and extravagance seem to gobble up any and all possibilities for tax relief.

There has been no federal tax cut since 1954, despite sharp increases in budget receipts. Receipts jumped from 60.4 billion dollars in fiscal 1955 to an estimated 73.6 billion for fiscal 1958, an increase of nearly one-fourth over a three-year period.

Too many Americans have been lulled into the belief that the cost of maintaining our "national security" accounts for the continued increase in our tax burden. While estimated expenditures for national security have increased 7 per cent over fiscal 1955, domestic-civilian expenditures by the federal government are 18 per cent higher!

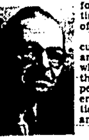
What should we do to curb all this uncontrolled spending which is sending our taxes sky high? Senator Byrd suggests this course of action:

"Communicate with the President and the bureau of the budget, demanding further reductions in expenditures in the current fiscal year, and reduction in new appropriations and expenditures in the budget now in preparation. Also demand of your representatives in congress continuing support of reductions in both expenditures and new appropriations."

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

Every Sunday Ray Tucker answers readers' questions of general interest on national and international policies and personalities. Questions may be sent him at 7008 Hillcrest Place, Chevy Chase, Md.

WASHINGTON—"Although I find former President Truman's newspaper articles extremely interesting," writes H. F., of White Plains, "I was disturbed by his statement that the American people were responsible for military unpreparedness at the time of the communists' invasion of Korea.



Ray Tucker

"What have the people to do with cutting down or expanding our army, navy and air force? Finally, what assurance do we have now that we can defeat Russia, or repel an attempted invasion of western Europe or this country? I notice that there is wide disagreement among the experts at Washington."

Answer: President Truman deserves great credit for the checks and the setbacks which he handed the Russian and Chinese communists in several strategic areas. He was largely responsible for keeping Greece and Turkey out of their grasp, for the Marshall plan and subsequent foreign aid setups, for NATO and for preventing their conquest of all Korea as a springboard for an attack on Japan.

H.S.T.—WRONG IN BLAMING "THE PEOPLE"—But he is all wrong when he blames "the people" for stripping our defense establishment so that we were woefully weak when Korea was invaded. Truman was responsible for the initial reverses we suffered for lack of a sufficient and well-balanced military force.

MISTAKEN ECONOMY—In 1949, only a year before the Korean invasion, it was Truman who insisted that 13 billion dollars was sufficient for our overall defense needs. When congress at the insistence of Senator Symington of Missouri, former civilian head of the air force, appropriated an extra $615,000,000 for new and more planes, it was Truman who refused to spend it, not the people.

Even a year earlier, when the joint chiefs of staff asked for an additional nine billion dollars to buy new weapons, it was Truman who vetoed their request, not the people. He and Louis A. Johnson, then defense secretary, assured us that they were "cutting out only fat, not muscle," but they really performed a major and near-fatal operation on the military structure.

The same situation prevails today. Senators Symington and Jackson again maintain that budget economies, as reflected in recent cutbacks on spending, give the Russians a great advantage over us, especially in planes and ballistic missiles. The White House and Pentagon disagree.

In such a squabble, the people are helpless, although their lives and property and future are at stake in the gamble. We must depend upon the so-called experts. Only the event will prove them right or wrong.

WANTS INFORMATION ON STOPPING SENATE INQUIRY—"Please tell us the names of the individuals and groups responsible for abandonment of the senate investigation into the background of our disastrous foreign policy in the Middle East," asks W. P. H., of Saratoga, Calif.

Answer: There was no sinister or political force behind dropping this proposed inquiry, although the state department may have made it extremely difficult for such a review. Secretary Dulles unloaded so many diplomatic papers on the senate foreign relations committee that the members could not have read and digested them in a whole session of congress.

THAT REFUSAL TO FINANCE EGYPTIAN DAM! However, based on this data, Senators Fulbright, Mansfield and Humphrey delivered numerous speeches critical of the Dulles program, especially in the Middle East. With considerable basis in fact, they traced a great deal of our difficulties there to the still unexplained refusal to finance the Aswan dam in Egypt.

In their opinion, the expenditure or loan of 100 million dollars in that venture would have been cheap insurance against the tragic train of events that have resulted from our brusque backdown.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

THE GIANTS GO WEST

The probabilities have been confirmed into sad certainties, and the Giants are going to San Francisco. We are sorry to see them go; sorry, because there was a sentimental attachment to a team that had been here nearly three-quarters of a century, sorry, too, because it isn't good for New York to be losing a third and probably two-thirds of its major league baseball.

Horace C. Stoneham, the Giants' president, protested to the end that professional baseball was a sport, but as a business he also had to count the house. He wasn't in business for charity, and the fans just didn't come out. "Lack of attendance" was the reason he gave for the decision to move, and no one can argue with the figures, however you try to explain them. Whether in the long run San Francisco will do better by the Giants remains to be seen.

So New York will be left with its memories. "There were giants in the earth in those days," the days of fifteen league pennants, of five world championships, the days of Mr. McGraw, of Hubbell, Frisch, Mathewson, Terry, Ott, Durocher, Rigney, Thomson, Mays and many others. These memories help you to understand one member of the board of directors saying, "It just tears my heart to see them go."

Well, the Giants is dead, as was once said in another context, but we can't throw away the crying towel for a while, because the Dodgers' number is also supposed to be coming up. With the Giants' decision made, there would seem on the basis of pure reason to be new cause for the Dodgers' staying. Certainly New York ought to have a National league team, if only to give us a chance to see the Giants again—and the Dodgers. Perhaps a more centrally situated stadium, in neutral territory such as Queens rather than Brooklyn, would be the answer. If former Giant fans came, though only to jeer, such pooled attendance might save the day.

But such speculation is probably vain, for it's pretty hard to stop prospectors in the midst of a gold rush. We say, with a lump in our throat and a tear in our eye, best of luck.—New York Times.

TRIBUTE TO REP. BUDGE

The Washington Daily News reports that Rep. Hamer Budge, R., Ida., "conducted the most consistently vocal fight for economy" in the session of congress just concluded, along with three other Republicans.

We are not surprised at this tribute because Representative Budge has demonstrated time and again that he is responsive to the wishes of his constituency and knows at first hand what his people want.

The people of the United States do want economy in government, in our opinion, and we expect that they will prove it at the polls whenever they have the opportunity.

At this time of peak prosperity and government revenues, the need for economy in government is just as great as ever, perhaps actually greater, if we are to continue a high level of employment, production, and relative prosperity. To put it another way, how are we going to reduce the national debt and the burdensome income tax load if we do not do it in good times?

Representative Budge is aware of the situation and in his quiet, modest and determined way, is striving to do something about it. We say "more power to you sir!"—Idaho State Journal.

TAXPAYERS' LAMENT

The National Cash Register company has invented a machine that can add up to a trillion (1,000,000,000,000).

Officials of the company explained: "The machine has been developed to meet the needs of banks, insurance companies and other institutions which now deal with figures of this size."

There is no question that this is the age of boxcar figures. We count it a victory that private enterprise was alert enough to get the jump.

For the way things are going, if someone else had not invented a machine that can add up to a trillion sooner or later the government would have to.—Wall Street Journal.

POT SHOTS

MIGHT AS WELL

Dear Pot Shots:

I have an idea for the quiz contest to end all quiz contests. The idea is so simple I'm surprised no one ever thought of it before.

Actually, the only new angle of my quiz contest idea is the prize. After the contestant answered all the required questions he would receive a quit claim deed from the government to Ft. Knox. In case you aren't very hep today, that's where the U. S. piles up all its gold.

Idea Man
(Jerome)

Pot Shots note: Might just as well try it. No one would be out much because the winner might be able to keep enough to buy a short beer after the government was finished collecting taxes on it.

PUPS FOR KIDS DEPT.

Pot Shots:

Tell the dog lovers two of their friends have taken up abode at my country home and I don't want either of them because I'm living in a rented house where the owner has planted lots of shrubs and flowers. Would any of you drive clear to Oakley to pick up a free pooch? One is a young, friendly, energetic female fox terrier; the other a black cocker spaniel, sedate and well-behaved. If interested, just inquire for Louis and any Oakleyan can tell you where to find me.

Vieja
(Oakley)

The pup is 8 months old, female and a cross between Irish setter and black Labrador. Likes children. You can get her from Mrs. Leon Love a mile south and half a mile west of South Park.

Pots:

Five black Labrador puppies 5 months old need good homes and should be good pals for children. They're good hunting dogs. Four are male, one female. We live one and one-half miles north and one and one-half miles west of Hansen bridge.

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

"WASHINGTON CALLING" BY MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—With the prospect that the stalemated disarmament talks in London will soon be moved to the arena of the United Nations, the propaganda battle between Washington and Moscow over the blame for failure of these talks will be intensified.

Marquis Childs

In the light of this battle, what Harold Stassen, American delegate to the disarmament talks, said privately during his recent brief interval in Washington is of the first importance.

With certain of the half dozen officials and close associates with whom he talked, Stassen dropped the front of optimism he has maintained in public despite the way in which the Soviet Union has rejected out of hand the American proposals for arms inspection and control.

Stassen's attitude could, in fact, be described as almost despairing as he talked in strictest privacy of his difficulties. If you deliberately want to prevent achieving any disarmament, he told at least two persons with whom he talked, then you do the following:

1. You make your proposals so complicated and so far-reaching that the other side is almost certain to reject them.

2. You impose on the negotiator the necessity to check and recheck and check again with officials back home before he can advance another step in the negotiations. In other words, you make it as difficult as possible to carry on a frank face-to-face discussion on the terms of a disarmament agreement.

3. You tolerate—if you do not actively encourage—officials who say publicly that there is no possibility of getting a disarmament agreement and that an agreement would, in any event, be unworkable if not undesirable.

While Stassen was careful, even in his confidential talks, not to place specific blame on officials of the Eisenhower administration, he left no doubt that he felt he had been under a grave handicap during the London talks. On each of these three points he might have been pointing the finger at a dozen or more top military and civilian policy-makers in Washington, but he has suffered particularly with respect to points two and three.

His authority in London has been progressively cut out from under him in recent months as disagreements over the American position have developed within the administration.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles succeeded in having Stassen's base of operations transferred from the White House to the state department, and he has never lost an opportunity to say the decisions being taken are his and the President's. A month ago Dulles flew to London to mastermind the effort to get agreement of the Western allies on an arms stand.

On one other score, too, Stassen was remarkably frank. He readily conceded that the drastic economy cutbacks in the department of defense were making his position more difficult. He expressed the fear that to the Soviets this seemed to be unilateral disarmament on America's part. Therefore, they would feel under no compulsion to make concessions in order to reach an agreement.

One official with whom Stassen talked said his impression was of a man put out on the firing line in an exposed position with little support from the rear because he was entirely expendable. Stassen himself may have come to feel that he is a kind of sacrificial goat in the disarmament exercise.

His persistent public optimism is the source of wry humor here, with the cynics saying there is nothing left of the disarmament talks but Harold Stassen's grin and even that, like the grin of the Cheshire cat in "Alice in Wonderland," is rapidly fading. His togetherness in the face of communist intransigence is so determined as to constitute some kind of a world's record.

Two forthcoming developments are likely to put the arms talks—and Stassen's position—in a new light. The administration is said to have reversed its original position and to be ready now to meet the Soviets head-on over disarmament in the United Nations.

Second, the senate disarmament subcommittee is shortly to bring out a sharply-worded report, agreed to at the present stage by both Republican and Democratic members, criticizing the rigidity of American policy. This could bolster the role of the unhappy Stassen or, on the other hand, it could result in moving him altogether from the disarmament tangle.

Crash Victim Is Moved to Vet Hospital

BLISS, Sept. 7—Gene Johnson, Buhl, injured Friday afternoon in a three-vehicle pileup on highway 30 about two and one-half miles west of here was transferred Saturday to the veterans' hospital in Boise.

Johnson incurred severe lacerations in the crash and underwent minor surgery at Gooding Memorial hospital after the accident. He had been listed in "fair" condition at the Gooding hospital.

Leland Holm, 50, Logan, Utah, injured in the same crash, was listed in "fairly good" condition at Gooding Memorial hospital with possible fractures and a back injury.

Johnson, a paralytic, was riding in a 1951 Pontiac owned by him and driven by Henry Fields, 76, Buhl. Holm was driving a 1950 Pontiac and had pulled up behind a car and house-trailer that had been stopped on the highway by a highway work crew member.

The Johnson car smashed into the rear of Holm's car, officers said, and drove it into the rear of the trailer. The car and trailer had been flagged down to caution the driver to avoid the highway's center line, which had just been painted.

Sheriff Keith Anderson and Deputies Guy Coles and Bill Bunn, who investigated, estimated that there was $900 damage to the house-trailer and that both Pontiacs were a "total loss."

MEETING TIME SET

SHOSHONE, Sept. 7—Scout troop 57 will continue to meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Memorial hall, Roger Kelley, Scoutmaster, has reported.

Salk Shot Clinic Set in Shoshone

SHOSHONE, Sept. 7.—The third polio shot for Lincoln county children will be given by the public health department Thursday.

The first two shots were given last spring with children at the Twin Falls public health office.

The shots will be given at the Lincoln auditorium here this time. Shoshone and Dietrich students will receive shots from 9 a.m. to noon. Richfield children will get shots from 1 to 3 p.m.

Children who have not had their first shots may start the series on the same day. Parents must sign releases previous to that time. Mrs. Dorothy Alexander, county public health nurse, has the release blanks at her office in the courthouse.

Beaver Builds Home Like Real Engineer

As I've said before, the best part of writing my column is the warm correspondence with you readers and the many outdoor experiences and observations you share with me. It's the next best thing to sitting around a campfire.

In today's mail, for example, I received a letter from Darl G. Whitney of Creswell, Ore., which I'd like to pass along for your reaction. (It goes without saying that he pulls down this week's award of the 30-volume set of the Encyclopedia Americana.)

Eugene Burns

Beavers, writes Whitney, are among the most intelligent of small animals. As everyone knows, much of their time is spent in building dams and storing water. In fact, many cattlemen and ranchers have water holes today because of the beavers' work . . . and all this for free.

But there is more to their dams than appears on the surface. Two years ago while photographing beavers for a magazine, I found out about the safety valve on beaver dams and how water currents act as warning systems to the beavers.

This safety valve is the place on the dam where a certain amount of water is allowed to escape at all times. This keeps the water from running over the face of the dam which would, of course, wash the valuable mud and chinking away and cause the dam to leak. Besides, with this safety valve the beavers can raise or lower the amount of water in the dam by simply adding or taking away a few sticks from this escape gap.

In event of flood, this safety valve might conceivably let that part of the dam wash out as this part is not as strong as the rest of the dam—and, again, in this way beavers protect their house and the main part of the dam's structure.

While watching two beavers cross the pond where they waddled ashore on the opposite side where th gathered certain shoots which th carried back across the pond to th house from which came squea indicating that the pair had you ones which they were now feed the idea came to me to prove m theory of the safety valve and th warning system.

I removed sticks from the up per part of the safety valve wide ing the gap from 24 inches to a In doing so, I removed only tho sticks which could be replaced easily as in Oregon the law does not allow anyone to damage beaver dam. Taking a position feet away from the escape gap in a group of poplars, I awaited to see my theories would prove out namely, that the water curre were the beavers' "telegraph line" in case of danger.

After waiting about five minute a large beaver started across the pond since the water currents seem ed to run in an almost straigh line from the safety valve back to the center of the pond.

I reasoned that as soon as the beaver reached the current, that would know if the system of wate current signals worked or not. Sur enough—the beaver was swimmin along swiftly until he hit th current. Then he stopped — as yo might say, he dropped everything and with a kerplop, dove under.

I surmised he'd follow the water currents straight to the safety valve or escape gap so I set my automatic camera and waited. It wasn't long; all of a sudden, out of the escape gap appeared a large wet head. He looked as drowned as a wet pup.

I got a fine picture and one more as he came clear out and inspected the gap.

Well, that's it—a built-in safety valve and intra-warning signals in a beaver dam. I replaced the sticks and drove back to the city happy with my picture story. Although I photographed beavers for the next six months, I'll never forget those first beaver pictures.

Ike' Appeals To Syria for Peace Action

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Pres- ent Eisenhower bypassed Syria's o-Soviet government today and ged her people to do something to d fear of communist-inspired at- cks by Syria on her neighbors.

Eisenhower also pledged to use his ll power as needed under the con- ressionally-approved resolution for locking communist expansion in e Middle East.

The extraordinary appeal and re- ffirmation of the Middle East reso- lution were reported by Secretary f State Dulles after an urgent two- our White House conference.

But Dulles refused to answer a ey question put to him by news- en: Did this mean the Eisenhower dministration was officially defin- ng Syria as communist-dominated nder the Middle East resolution? hat resolution promises American roops in response to calls for help rom any Middle East nation at- cked by a communist-dominated ounty.

Dulles, turning away, said he could ot go beyond "any inferences that ay be drawn from the statement I ust read you."

Eisenhower has avoided label- ng Syria as communist-dominated. "Leftish leanings" is as far as he as gone in describing the people in ower in Syria.

Dulles said in the 280-word state- ent worked out with Eisenhower hat the President already has acted nder the Middle East resolution.

He said Eisenhower did this by or- ering a speedup in delivery of pre- iously programmed defensive arms nd economic aid to Syria's neigh- ors.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Sept. 7 (AP)—The new city charter which eliminates the post of city treasurer poses a problem.

Without the treasurer, there is no one to sign park board checks.

Valley Courts Levy Fines in Traffic Cases

the county jail by Judge Pumphrey, seated as justice of the peace, and fined $200 and $3 costs on a charge of drunken driving.

In Rupert, Melvin E. Slater, Rupert, was fined $100 and $3 costs and his license was revoked for one year by Police Judge George Redford, on a charge of drunken driving.

Jerome Police Court Judge Roberta Kehrer Friday fined Frank Fugate, 15, $15 and suspended his license for two weeks on a charge of negligent driving. The youth was cited by Jerome Policeman Bernie Blackman. A. F. Hessler was fined $7 for running through a stoplight.

Jerome Probate Judge Theron Ward fined Elmer D. Jones, Shoshone, $15 and costs for speeding. Jones was cited by State Patrolman Marvin Wright for driving 70 miles an hour in a 55-mile zone on highway 93 seven miles north of Twin Falls.

Fred M. Jackson, Wendell, cited by Deputy Sheriff Bill Bunn for running through a stop sign, appeared Thursday before Wendell Municipal Judge David Collett and was fined $5 and $3 costs.

Glen Gould paid $10 and costs in Buhl police court for speeding in a school zone.

In Burley, Donald E. Van Wagner, Twin Falls, was cited by State Patrolman Marvin Snyder for going 68 miles an hour in a 55-mile zone and paid a fine of $10 and costs to Justice of the Peace Joe Weldon. Ronald A. Glorfield, Rupert, was cited by Snyder for negligent driving and paid a fine of $25 and costs.

In Burley police court, Judge Henry Tucker fined K. A. Schmidt, Burley, $25 for running through a stop sign.

Ronnie R. Green, 161 Harrison street, Twin Falls, was fined $9 and $3 costs in Twin Falls justice court Friday on a charge of speeding. Green was cited by State Patrolman Carr during a radar check on highway 93 near Berger last week-end.

Fire Destroys Big Woodpile

SPOKANE, Sept. 7 (AP) — A fire, fanned by winds up to 35 miles an hour, burned through a huge pile of logs and a warehouse at the Inland Empire Paper company's plant at Millwood this afternoon, just east of here, causing extensive damage.

Hundreds of firefighters, made up of Spokane valley firemen, civil defense workers, sheriff's posse members and airmen from Geiger and Fairchild air force bases, fought the fire in the eight-block-long pile of logs, stacked 30 feet high.

Fire Chief Lawrence E. Schucker of the Spokane Valley fire department said the blaze apparently started from sparks from a steam locomotive being used in the paper mill area.

No More Jail

JACKSON, Ky., Sept. 7 (AP)—The residents of Jail street don't have to put up with all the wisecracks any more.

The city council, bowing to long-time criticism of the name, changed it to Brown street in honor of a former mayor.

Parley Hears Of Aid Given At Derailment

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 7 (AP)—A physician who was aboard the derailed "Yellowstone Special" train near Ashton, Ida., Aug. 29 told the Utah State Medical association Saturday of administering to the injured.

There were no critical injuries but several elderly people to whom he had to administer. He was the only physician on the train.

Oxygen Handy

Dr. Robert A. Hingson, professor of anesthesiology at western Reserve university in Cleveland, said the oxygen bottles he had in his satchel came in handy and may possibly have helped save some lives.

Oxygen administreed to persons in shock, or in extreme anxiety so that breathing is labored and consequently a lack of oxygen results, relieves such conditions.

Recommends Use

Dr. Hingson told the concluding session of the association's annual convention that all doctors should carry containers of oxygen in their satchels. He said it would be better than any drug—new or old.

Convention officials said 838 doctors attended the convention, including a few out-of-staters. The association has a membership of 848.

Other speakers included Dr. Samuel P. Martin, professor of medicine at the University of Florida, and Dr. John F. McCreary, professor of pedriatrics at the University of British Columbia.

Together

TOKYO, Sept. 7 (AP)—Emperor Hirohito has set another democratic postwar precedent.

The emperor and Empress Nagako yesterday rode in the same limousine with their children from their summer villa in Nasu to the Kurioso railway station where they entrained for Tokyo. Past practice has been for the imperial offspring to ride ahead of the emperor and empress.

Russia's Jet Flying Back To Red Base

McGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N. J., Sept. 7 (AP)—A sleek Russian jet airliner took off early today on the return flight to Moscow.

The powerful two-engine craft was flown by a Russian crew but also carried the three American fliers who assisted the Russians on the last leg of their flight to the United States earlier this week.

Several reporters, news photographers and air force personnel at the base watched the silvery plane as it took off at 6:38 a.m.

It was the first Russian passenger plane ever to land on American soil.

An air force spokesman said the Americans will leave the craft at Goose Bay, Labrador, the first stopover for refueling.

The TU-104 plane, the pride of the Russian civil air fleet, landed here Wednesday night after completing the 5,570-mile flight, including several stopovers for refueling, in 21 hours and 54 minutes.

Columbia River Basin's Power Potential Is Termed 'Greatest'

RENO, Nev., Sept. 7 (AP)—Dr. William A. Pearl of Portland, administrator of the Bonneville power administration, says the Columbia river basin has the greatest hydroelectric potential of any area its size in the world.

Pearl spoke at a meeting of the Columbia interstate compact commission yesterday.

The head of the area's federal power marketing agency said current potential was about 9,286,000 kilowatts. Pearl added that eight federal projects were now under construction and 22 others were producing.

Brig. Gen. L. H. Foote of the army engineers at Portland spoke on flood control. He said that although floods of 1894, 1948 and 1956 followed similar patterns, there was no certainty that the next flood would also follow in line.

Regional bureau of reclamation Director Harold T. Nelson of Boise reviewed accomplishments of earlier interstate compacts and said basin-wide planning for the Columbia was necessary.

Marshall L. Blair of the Washington Water Power company at Spokane said the Northwest power pool, made up of 11 power systems in five states, was not the largest, but was the most complex in America.

Final sessions today dealt with problems hindering formation of a compact among Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming.

Leading U.S. Painter Now 97 Years Old

EAGLE BRIDGE, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP)—"Just work so hard that there's no time to worry," says Grandma Moses, a spry 97 today.

The world-famous painter of primitives, still in "unusually good" health, commented on her birthday eve: "If you can't finish it today, there's always tomorrow."

"Too Much Fuss"

Grandma looked at 97 roses, the gift of admirers, and declared that people "make too much fuss" about her birthdays. "I'm just a plain person," she said.

A quiet day with her family and friends was her only birthday plan.

Starts Career

Until she took up painting in her 70s, Grandma Moses was known only as Mrs. Anna Mary Robertson Moses—farm wife and mother of 10.

Today, dozens of her paintings hang in museums. Many are reproduced on Christmas cards.

Former Red Boss Escapes to West

WARSAW, Sept. 7 (AP)—Kazimierz Jaworski, a former member of the Polish communist government, has fled to the West, it was officially disclosed today.

He is believed to be the highest ranking Polish communist ever to defect.

Jaworski was vice minister of construction until early this year. He then lost his job in the government reshuffle and was appointed director of the construction research institute.

Request Over New Law Will Be Circulated

BOISE, Sept. 7 (AP)—Petitions will be ready the week of Sept. 16 in the drive to gain by initiative referendum a "right-to-work" law in Idaho.

Fred Smith, executive secretary of the Idaho freedom to work committee, which is directing the campaign, said today the petitions now are being printed. Signatures of approximately 23,000 qualified voters must be obtained on the petitions to give the proposal a place on the ballot at the 1958 general election.

Majority approval at the election would make the proposal a law. The "right to work" proposal would prohibit labor contracts which make union membership a condition of employment.

Smith said there "has been a general statewide response" to the committee's announcement that it will circulate petitions.

"In essence," Smith said, "the right to work law merely affirms the principle that a worker has the right to join a union, or not to join a union, as he sees fit and it is this freedom of choice that must be protected by law."

"It has been charged by union labor leaders that the right to work law is designed solely to destroy the unions but a candid study of this law and its appliance in the 18 right to work states throughout the country dispels this fallacy. Voluntary membership in any organization strengthens the organization because each member has chosen to become a part of the group."

Mother of House GOP Leader Dies

NORTH ATTLEBORO, Mass., Sept. 7 (AP)—Mrs. Catherine Martin, 95-year-old Mother of House Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr., died today in her home.

Mrs. Martin, widowed for 15 years, had returned only yesterday from the family's summer home at Sagamore on Cape Cod. The congressman accompanied his mother home and was with her when she died.

Combine Engine Starting Depends on Valve Work

In 1956, easy starting and good power was assured owners of bean and clover combines for they proved that grinding and seating valves insured needed engine starting compression. Geo. Woods Tractor Shop did valve work with portable valve tools, in most cases right at the farms.

In 1957, the same prompt service is available by phoning 3941 or calling Geo. Woods at 752 Main avenue north, next to the Twin Falls Electric Company building. Precise magneto work is offered too! Adv.

New Tropical Storm Aiming For Mainland

SAN JUAN, P. R., Sept. 7 (AP)—The season's third hurricane played hide-and-seek far out in the Atlantic tonight and a "tropical depression" moved northward in the Gulf of Mexico toward northwest Florida.

The United States weather bureau at San Juan issued a special advisory at 7:30 p.m. on Hurricane Carrie which located the storm's eye 100 miles farther east than an hour before, and said it was moving west-northwest at 10 miles an hour.

High Winds

"Highest winds are now estimated to be 125 miles an hour near the center and extend outword for a radius of 50 miles," the advisory said.

"This is a very small but dangerous hurricane."

The storm center was located 1,540 miles east of San Juan. The 7:30 p.m. advisory said Hurricane Carrie presented no immediate threat to any land areas.

Earlier, the San Juan weather bureau estimated distance of the storm center as 1,450 miles from San Juan and said its force had dwindled to an estimated 75 miles an hour—barely hurricane strength.

New Depression

Meanwhile, the U. S. weather bureau at New Orleans warned that tropical depression had developed in the Gulf of Mexico, 250 miles south of Mobile, Ala., and threatened to itensify somewhat during the night en route toward extreme northwest Florida.

Small craft from Mobile to St. Marks, Fla., were advised to remain in port.

No Hurry

GLENCOE, Ill., Sept. 7 (AP)—It isn't that things move slowly in Glencoe, it's just that there's no money.

For instance, land for the new village hall opened last week was bought in 1917.

Cruise Completed

MOSCOW, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Soviet cruiser Mikhail Kutuzov has completed an 11,000-mile voyage from the Baltic around Europe to Sevastapol of the Black sea, the Soviet press reported today.

Summer Atom Testing Series Near Windup

ANGEL'S PEAK, Nev., Sept. 7 (AP)—The atomic energy commission today rushed ahead with plans to fire four more nuclear devices before the end of this month and round out the summer test series with a total of 21 detonations.

The AEC yesterday fired atomic device "Wheeler," a "bonus baby" detonation with an estimated explosive yield equivalent to 5,000 tons of TNT. The shot was added to the regular schedule of tests and was designated the 17th blast of the series.

Of comparatively low intensity, "Wheeler" had about one fourth of the strength of the atomic bombs dropped on Japan during World war II.

The shots listed by the AEC as remaining to be fired included one above-average power blast, one be*low average, an underground* charge and a final shot which has not been identified.

The below-average shot is code named "whitney" and will be fired from atop a 500-foot tower, the AEC said. "Newton," the higher powered device, will be a balloon blast.

She Says Young People Nice, Deplores Rock 'n' Roll Music

Editor, Times-News:

And now we have rock 'n' roll, we have everything! How nice it is that our young people behaved so well. Of course they behaved well. We have nice young people in this town and we are proud of them and want to keep them so.

It is noted that since they were so well behaved the manager hopes to bring other rock 'n' roll bands here. Perhaps they will also bring in some girls for publicity stunts who can swoon and teach our youngsters how to get wild while the hellish music goes on.

It serves us right (only pity the young people) for look what a nasty catty writeup some self-esteemed music critic put in the paper when David Bar-Illan gave us a free concert of real music rendered in a very excellent style about a year ago. I am not ashamed to put my name to this and any that whoever it was gave a young artist, Bar-Illan—that nasty, sneaky, catty writeup, that was not worthy a name, speaks cheaply of that highly egotistic, self-styled music critic. Now, you—whoever you are—have rock 'n' roll. How do you like that hellish stuff? Where do we go from here?

Do you think the young artists(?) interpreted the stuff with the mature understanding and skill it deserves? Tell us where this kind of hell-bent black magic comes from. Tell us of its harmony, its appeal to the best within us, its uplift to the right that is us—how it builds character!

How low will we bend for money! How much will good American people pay for trash! And oh how I pity every mother who sees her child exploited instead of educated into the best that could be, of all the best things so freely given from the best of every age, but here we go backward in music, in art, in literature.

Oh well, I got it off my chest a little anyway!

Driver's Nose Is Hurt in Accident

An elderly driver incurred a battered nose and his car was damaged to the extent of $200 in an auto-truck collision one mile east of Hansen on highway 30 about 7:35 a.m. Saturday.

Deputy Sheriff Paul Ross reported the 1951 Hudson driven by Claude R. Wildes, 78, Pharr, Tex., collided with the rear of a 1957 GMC truck driven by Ruth Stokesberry, 25, Filer, who had stopped to make a left turn. Wildes, whose nose was bloodied by the impact, said he was forced to collide with the truck to avoid oncoming eastbound traffic as he attempted to pass.

Damage to the car was listed at $200 to the right side and front and $15 to the left rear of the truck.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 7 (AP)—A strike of electricians today tied up St. Louis's two daily newspapers, the afternoon Post-Dispatch and the morning Globe-Democrat. The dispute was over wages.

Purchase Limit On Metal Asked

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D., Va., has urged the government to limit purchases of aluminum to domestic production.

Robertson, chairman of the joint congressional defense production committee, said yesterday he regretted the comptroller general's ruling that domestic companies could sell the government Canadian aluminum under terms of their contracts.

Writer at Jerome Agrees Spraying Upsetting Nature

Editor, Times-News:

I read the article by Cecil B. Ballenger regarding spraying may upset nature's balance. I heartily agree with him and wish to add my word.

I've had farmers tell me that the chemical fertilizers make the soil hard. Now what kind of crop can we raise on such soil? My son bought an acre here at the north edge of town and the soil was as hard as a road.

We have hauled 10 to 15 pickup truckloads of manure, etc., on about one-fourth of it for three years now. You wouldn't believe it was the same soil.

Spraying with DDT and 2,4-D nearly killed my wife two summers before we moved to Canada. It is dynamite to people who aren't well especially. There is plenty of evidence to show that this isn't Nature's way.

Also, the chemical treatment of our food is bad for people. Why not encourage the use of untreated frozen foods which is the best way to preserve the natural product in all its goodness.

I would also like to see the fluoridation of water nipped in the bud before any city water is treated with it. Many cities have discontinued it after using it awhile.

Think of poison louse powder being put in our drinking water. How foolish can we get?

Negroes Enroll

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Sept. 7 (AP) — The University of North Carolina's director of admissions announced yesterday a total of 13 Negroes are enrolled at the school for the coming year.

Six of them are new to the campus and seven have attended in the past. About 8,000 students are enrolled at the university.

Benson Looks For Brighter Farm Picture

HURON, S. D., Sept. 7 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today agriculture has turned the corner toward prosperity. But he added that revised federal farm programs are needed to help improve the situation.

Benson said farm income and prices are on the rise, that farm assets have climbed to a new record high, that price-depressing farm surpluses have been cut considerably and that farm exports are at an all-time high.

Benson gave this appraisal of the farm situation in a speech prepared for the South Dakota state fair.

He said "we are now ready for a next step" in what he called "the continuing debate on farm policy."

"We should have moved away from the fixed formulas in the old (price support) law which, as they now stand, require price support levels to be raised as soon as surpluses are moved," Benson said. "If these formulas are not modified, the stage is set for surplus number two as soon as we dispose of surplus number one."

Action on Wages Started in Court

Suit for wages was filed Saturday in Twin Falls probate court by Robert J. Lee against Charles Counterman.

In his suit, filed by Rayborn and Rayborn, Lee charges Counterman terminated an oral contract to hire him in haying operations at $1.25 an hour after Lee had worked two days this week. He refused to pay him for the two days worked, the complaint charges.

Lee asks $20 in wages for the two days at $1.25 an hour; $31.25 damages caused by Counterman's refusal to pay; $1.25 per hour from the time of filing of the complaint until the claim is settled, and $25 for attorney fees.

Japan Tries for Seat on Council

TOKYO, Sept. 7 (AP)—Thirty-three members of the United Nations have agreed to vote for Japan in the race for the non-permanent seat on the security council, Foreign Minister Aiichiro Fujiyama said yesterday.

He said 14 other nations were "favorable inclined" toward Japan but 10 had turned down Japan's vote-getting overtures. Japan is competing with Czechoslovakia for the post and needs 54 votes to win.

Safe Drink

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 7 (AP)—Police said 23-year-old Dewey Von Jordan had a good explanation of why he had a half glass of whisky and an open pocket knife up his sleeve when stopped for questioning.

He said the knife was for protection while he drank the whisky in public.

Four Ships Move Through Passage

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Three U. S. coast guard ships and a Canadian Arctic patrol vessel have gone through Bellot strait, "key link in the Northwest passage," the navy reported today.

Their journey through the 80-foot channel at the northern tip of the American continent established an escape route eastward for ships which otherwise might be trapped by Arctic icepacks.

Dislike Batista

Ives Says Ban on Third Term Makes President 'Lame Duck'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Senator Ives, R., N.Y., said today the no-third-term-amendment has made President Eisenhower "in effect a lame duck president" and has hampered the administration's program in congress.

But Senator Neuberger, D., Ore., said the Democratic-controlled congress did rather well by Eisenhower's proposals despite what Neuberger called presidential "lassitude."

And Senator Kuchel, R., Calif., said in a separate interview he can find no evidence of any Republican move to desert the President or his program despite the fact that Eisenhower is barred by constitutional amendment from running again.

"In fact," Kuchel said, "I find that most Republicans who intend to run again next year are looking forward hopefully to having the President's endorsement."

Ives said in a recorded radio program for broadcast by New York stations that Republicans were "plagued by the problem of divided government" in the last session of congress. He said that while it was not a do-nothing congress "from the viewpoint of the White House, this session can only be regarded as a failure.

"Democrats controlled the house and senate, dominating the all-important congressional committees in which so much of our legislation is shaped," Ives said.

"It is most difficult, as the record of this session has amply proved, to advance a Republican administration's program when the party of the opposition has control of the legislative branch.

"But the problem of divided government remains. It has become more acute during the past months, I feel, because of the 22nd amendment to the constitution which makes President Eisenhower, the most popular President of our era, in effect a lame duck president.

"The problem of divided government, however, can be rectified only at the polls in 1958, when one-third of the senate and all of the house of representatives will be passed upon by the electorate."

Neuberger said he doesn't believe the fact that Eisenhower can't run again had anything to do with congress' reactions to the President's proposals. Eisenhower himself has voiced somewhat similar sentiments.

"If the President were vigorous in presenting his program he would still be effective, even though he is a lame duck," Neuberger said. "It was very evident in President Truman's last term that he would not run again, but Truman fought vigorously and effectively for his program.

"The Democratic congress did very well by Eisenhower, even though he uncoupled the engine and let us push the train. His trouble is that a lot of people think he cares more about the results from his No. 2 iron than he does about what happens in congress."

Chamber Devising Yearbook Ad Plan

A special committee of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce has come up with a proposed solution to the solicitation problem which faces merchants on high school yearbook advertising.

Mitchell Hunt, secretary-manager of the chamber, said the plan calls for all solicitation to be handled by the Chamber of Commerce. "This is being done to alleviate the extensive amounts of time and energy expended by youngsters involved in solicitation programs," Hunt said.

Participating merchants will make one payment to the Chamber of Commerce which will handle payments to participating schools. All student solicitors will be referred to the Chamber of Commerce.

China Leader Tells "Price" Of Exchange

TOKYO, Sept. 7 (AP)—Red China's Premier Chou En-Lai has assured visiting Americans that his country is open to their fellow citizens "on a reciprocal basis" at any time, the communist radio reported today. This was an apparent reference to the comunist refusal to admit American newsmen to red-held China unless communist correspondents are allowed to visit the United States.

A Peiping broadcast said also that Chou autographed a banjo and a guitar for two visiting Americans.

Chou met 100 student delegates from 25 countries at a reception in one of Peiping's leading hotels yesterday.

"Premier Chou En-lai has just entered the ballroom and is receiving a tremendous ovation as the youth delegates all surge forward and surround him," Radio Peiping's English-language announcer reported today in a recorded description of the reception.

Describes Meeting

The Peiping announcer also described a meeting and dance given for the students at an open-air pavilion in Tung Shan park.

"The square in the center of the park is decorated with varicolored lights and with big Picaso peace doves with flapping wings done in neon," he reported.

He told of interviewing one of the American students whom he identified as "Robert Cohen of Los Angeles."

"Cohen" said of his two weeks visit in red China that they had been "so full of new impressions and ideas for me . . . I still can't sort out my thoughts."

Gives Impressions

"I've seen so many old things and so many new things . . . I only hope that in the future, as cultural interchange between the United States and China and contacts between the people of the United States and the people of China may increase, that the people of both countries will be able to appreciate and understand more of the art of each country and also come to know the desires and aspirations of each other's peoples better," he said.

"I feel that the coming to China of myself and the other Americans who chose to come from Moscow is a step in this direction. I like to feel that millions of other Americans will come to China and millions of Chinese will go to America in the future, so that relationships between our two countries may improve through understanding and knowledge."

Well-Dressed

Police are hunting a well-dressed woman who became well-dressed at the expense of two Twin Falls residents.

Audrey Goodyear told police Saturday morning she was missing two dresses hanging on the clothesline at her home, 651 Second avenue west. She described the garments, taken sometime Thursday, as a navy blue dress decorated with pink and red flowers and a pink and white striped dress. They are size 9, she said.

A Mrs. Johnson, 344 Blue Lakes boulevard, Saturday reported theft of two slips, three or four pair of hose, two sheets and a rhinestone bracelet. The bracelet was taken from her apartment and the other items from the clothesline.

Conflicting Trends for Summer Are Noted as Financial Charts Compiled

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (AP)—Brisk retail selling of soft goods buoys the economy today while all hands wait to see what the critical month of September has in store for the durable goods manufacturers.

Patience is a hard virtue to come by in business and particularly in stock market circles where they like to guess before all the facts are in.

And government statistics now being announced mostly have to do with what happened in July. What will be happening this month won't show up in the statistics for a month or six weeks from now.

Other trends will start to appear this month. Until then uncertainty may be about the only thing that's sure.

The trends will show up first in the weekly banking statements on how much business is borrowing, how much individuals and corporations are depositing, how much they are withdrawing to spend. Trends will also show in the weekly store sales figures, in steel production estimates and in wholesale price lists.

The first reports this month contradict each other a bit.

Banks report that the public didn't withdraw as much spending money for the long Labor day weekend as expected. And banks that had borrowed from the federal reserve system to meet the expected rush for cash found themselves with a lot of this—on which they pay interest—on their hands.

First retail sales reports, on the other hand, look good. Helped by brisk back-to-school buying to outfit a bumper crop of fledgling scholars, store sales in many cities rose above a year ago.

The public is still parting with its money at the stores for things it needs, although being pretty choosy about the things it can put off buying for awhile. And the amount it spends for services goes right on rising. Higher prices on goods and higher rates and fees for services account for a sizable amount of the gain.

The part of the retail business that handles the big ticket items is less happy and more nervous.

Stocks of this year's model cars are higher than at this time last year. September is likely to see quite a scramble among dealers to move them out before the new models move in come October and November.

The new ones seem sure to bear higher price tags. And the finance companies, looking at the higher interest rates they must pay to borrow, are talking about hiking the finance charges on the new cars.

Layoffs here and there in the home appliance manufacturing field speak of sticky sales at the consumer level.

Yet consumers continue to add to the total of instalment debt, according to the federal reserve board. Its latest figures are for July and show the debt rising more that month than it did in July, 1956, and the total this summer to be 2½ billion dollars higher than last. This form of debt usually finances cars and the big ticket appliances.

The American Bankers association says that delinquencies in most lines of instalment credit are rising. And it wants banks to think twice before easing their payment terms.

At the producers level the figures so far available this month are also mixed.

Steel production is rising a bit, but steel scrap prices are dropping for lack of interest at the mills. Copper prices have fallen for lack of demand by the manufacturers who use the metal. And the department of commerce reports a steady decline in the backlog of unfilled orders of manufacturers—although again the report is for July.

Patience—it's still too early to tell.

Preparation for Epidemic Urged

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—The American Red Cross today urged families to prepare for a possible epidemic of Asian flu by sending at least one member through its home nursing course.

"It will be too late, after the disease hits a family, to prepare to meet the threat," said Red Cross President Alfred M. Gruenther.

Vets Are Told Of Check List Set up by VA

Veterans who plan to start school this fall under provisions of the Korean GI bill are advised of an eight-point check list approved by the veterans administration.

According to Arnold Helwege, veterans administration representative here, VA regional offices and centers will be operating at top speed to process papers of enrolling veterans. Incorrect applications slow things up for everyone—VA and veteran alike, Helwege said.

The check list advises that veterans are allowed only one change of course and plenty of thought should be given training programs. Veterans not sure of training goals may request VA vocational counseling.

Veterans should be sure their course has been GI-approved by the state in which the school is located, Helwege says. VA regional offices and centers and not VA headquarters in Washington, D. C., can furnish information about approved courses.

Veterans should complete arrangements for admittance to school before filing applications with the VA, he notes. Applications should be filled out completely and signed. It should be sent to the VA office serving the veterans area along with a photostat or certified copy of the veterans separation paper.

The application should be sent to the VA as soon as possible and veterans who claim dependents should have necessary proof of dependency ready when the VA requests it. For a wife, proof consists of a photostat of a marriage license and for a child a photostat of a birth certificate.

Helwege emphasized that a veteran should take along enough money to tide him over the first two months of training. It takes that long ordinarily for the first check to reach him.

Before the VA makes a payment, Helwege said, it must receive a certificate signed by the veteran and his school stating that he has received a month's training. The law allows the VA 20 days after receipt of the certification to get checks in the mail.

Delays Noted In Extension Class Opener

Extension classes originally scheduled for teachers on Sept. 9 to 12 have been postponed because Idaho State college has not opened yet and no instructors are available.

Dr. Clarence Moore, head of ISC's education department, met here during the week with 50 interested Magic Valley teachers. They decided to organize classes in education 111, new practices in teaching reading; education 132, methods and materials for teaching elementary school science; education 134, methods and materials for teaching elementary school language arts, and possibly a course course in arts and crafts.

It was pointed out that an arts and crafts class has been offered here a number of times and there may not be the necessary minimum of 20 teachers. The teachers were advised that those who have earned six semester hours in the course should not plan to take it any more.

An attempt will be made to organize a class for graduate work. The class may take the form of a seminar with the content to fit the needs of enrolled teachers, or a graduate course in foundations of education may be offered.

All classes will meet at 7 p.m. in the junior high school building. Arts and crafts class will meet Sept. 11, education 111 on Sept. 17, education 134 on Sept. 18 and education 132 on Sept. 19.

Woman Hurt

GOODING, Sept. 7—Mrs. Marion L. Boyer, 39, Hagerman, received a back injury when her 1952 Chevrolet went over a 20-foot embankment along highway 30 at 11:15 p.m. Saturday. She is a patient at the Gooding County Memorial hospital.

Mrs. Boyer told officials her purse dropped onto the floor of the car as she drove around a curve four miles south of Bliss and that the car went off the highway as she was reaching for the purse. Damage to the car was estimated at $300.

Official Named

SHOSHONE, Sept. 7—New finance chairman for the 1958 Red Cross drive is MacDonald R. Brown. He was named by Ray W. Brown, chapter chairman, this week.

Brown is an engineer with the state highway department and is project chief at the local office.

Stacks of Sterling Statistics Found In New Census Bureau Publication

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—You probably didn't have any idea that there were 488,650,000 silver dollars in circulation last year. And chances are you'd never guess that in 1955 American motor vehicle travel totaled 603½ trillion miles.

Are you aware that on Jan. 1, 1956, there were nearly 383 million chickens in these United States? and that those chickens or others like them, produced 61 billion eggs during the year?

These priceless gems of facts and figures were revealed Saturday in a fascinating book with a deadly dull title: "Statistical Abstract of the United States, 1957." It was compiled by the census bureau and if it proves anything it proves that the census bureau doesn't just count people—it counts everything.

For instance, it counted drive-in movies and found 820 of them in 1948, and 3,755 in 1954. It counted daily and Sunday newspapers and found 1,769 in 1947 and 1,761 last year (although circulation jumped from 51½ million to more than 57 million). It counted doctors and found 133 for every 100,000 Americans.

Most of the book's 1,045 pages are devoted to charts and figures, with little in the way of explanation.

For instance, it records that there were 750,000 full orphans (without either mother or father) in 1920, and that the number dropped steadily to 60,000 on July 1, 1955. How come the number dropped by more than one third in every 10-year period? The book doesn't say.

The census bureau would never say that a lot of war-time marriages went on the rocks. But its figures show that the peak year for divorces in this country was 1945, when there were 485,000. In 1956 there were 377,000.

Some day you might want to know that there are 51 persons for every square mile of area in the U.S. and that the worldwide average is 52.

Rhode Island is the most heavily populated state, with 748½ persons per square mile. Out in Nevada they have much more elbow room, with only 1½ persons in the same area.

Around the world, the most crowded country is the Netherlands with 858 persons per square mile. Japan has 624, South Korea 595 and the United Kingdom 544.

In the list of lonesome places, Libya has two persons per square mile and Canada four. Just incidentally, the figure for Russia is 23.

The census bureau learned that in 1955 total church membership in the U.S. was 100,162,529. Of these, 58,448,567 were Protestants and 33,396,647 were Roman Catholics. Smaller groups made up the balance.

It may help you on a quiz show some day to know that the production of snuff has gone down from a peak average of 219 million pounds in 1916-20 to 83 million pounds last year. Over the same span, cigarette production has jumped from 41 billion to 413 billion.

And among persons 18 years old or older about 25 million men and 13 million women smoke cigarettes regularly.

If you hadn't read it here, you probably wouldn't know that:

Commercial U.S. fishermen last year caught more than five billion pounds of fish.

The United States imported 16½ pounds of coffee for every American last year, but only half a pound of tea.

More than 35 per cent of all owner operated farms carry a mortgage. And in 1820 almost 72 per cent of the nation's work force was on the farm but by 1950 it had dropped to 11½ per cent.

Americans held a record 412½ billion dollars in life insurance last year, compared to 7½ million dollars in 1900.

If your doctor bills were high last year, maybe it was because you didn't remember the old saw, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away." The census bureau figures the average American ate only 19½ apples all year long. However he ate a record 163½ pounds of meat, 83½ pounds of which was beef. He also ate 365 eggs and over the year he ate nine pounds of butter and eight pounds of oleomargarine.

The census bureau not only knows how Americans live, it knows how they die. Last year 858,186 died of heart trouble, 245,070 died of cancer, 40,660 were killed in traffic accidents, 53,690 died in other accidents, 9,550 died of ulcers and 6,620 were victims of murder or homicide.

Masons Meet

RICHFIELD, Sept. 7—September meeting of the Richfield Masonic lodge was held Thursday evening. Rowan Burras, local member from Butte, Mont., and Newton Crawford, Hagerman, attended. Rupert Manning and E. W. McGoldrick, Shoshone, were visitors.

Frank Pope and LeRoi Cutright were refreshment hosts, with Crawford bringing watermelons.

Man Found Dead In Parked Trailer

RUPERT, Sept. 7 — Chester A. Clark, 61, Acequia, was found dead in his house trailer near Timmerman hill Saturday morning. Sheriff L. E. Outzs, Hailey, told Minidoka county officials death was caused by a heart attack.

Mr. Clark, who had lived at Acequia during winters for the last three years, spent his summers near Timmerman hill caring for pasture and stock belonging to Lilbert Fish, Rupert.

He was born Feb. 2, 1896, at Ogden and came to the Minidoka project in 1914. He was a veteran of World war I.

Surviving are five sisters, Mrs. Mary Fish and Mrs. Katherine Barnes, both Rupert; Mrs. Ruby Blackinton, Ogden, and Mrs. Pearl Falls and Mrs. Herman Falls, both Boise.

Funeral services are pending at the Goodman mortuary.

Army's Offer For Widower Gets Refusal

SOMAGAHARA, Japan, Sept. 7 (AP)—The widower of the Japanese woman shot by William S. Girard said today he is embarrassed by the U. S. army's proposal settlement of $1,748 in sympathy money as well as a $15,000 damage award proposed by a Pennsylvania congressman.

Akikichi Sakai, 47, told newsmen he had never filed a claim but his village council had done so in his behalf.

Sakai Thursday turned down the army offer — tradition in Japan and a regular army practice when Japanese are killed in accidents involving Americans.

The larger damage award was proposed in congress by Representative Fulton, R., Pa.

"I am not against money if it carries love with it, but it angers me to think that some people feel the loss of my wife and the children's mother can be rectified by a sum of money," Sakai said.

"The sympathy of my neighbors seems to be turning to envy. The village children have started taunting my kids. They tell them: 'You are going to become rich over the killing of your mother.'"

Girard's manslaughter trial in the death of the 46-year-old scrap collector, Mrs. Naka Sakai, is in recess until next Thursday.

Sakai said he doubts he can forgive Girard because the Ottawa, Ill., soldier "shows no sign of repentance ... he is like a piece of pottery that cannot be penetrated by sunlight."

Death Claims Buhl Woman

BUHL, Sept. 7—Mrs. Mary Fox Meierhoff, 65, resident of Buhl since 1935, died at Magic Valley Memorial hospital, Twin Falls, at 5:10 p.m. Friday.

Mrs. Meierhoff was born at Smithville, Mo., Aug. 15, 1892. She was married to John Meierhoff at Lyndon, Kans., Dec. 7, 1928, and the couple lived in Scranton, Kans., until 1935 when they moved to Buhl. She was a member of the Buhl First Presbyterian church and of the auxiliary of the Union Pacific Oldtimers club.

Surviving, in addition to the husband, are five sons, Homer Meierhoff, Council Grove, Kans., James Meierhoff, Emporia, Kans., Ray Meierhoff, Buhl, Adolph Meierhoff, Glenns Ferry, and Ralph Meierhoff, Carlin, Nev.; two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Ferrasci, Salinas, Calif., and Mrs. Naomi Wing, Castleford; one brother, William Fox, Kansas; four sisters, Mrs. Clara Teller, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Betty Schroer, Mrs. Ollie Schroer and Mrs. Laura How all Kearney, Nebr., and 24 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the First Presbyterian church by the Rev. Stanton McClenny. Concluding services will be at the Buhl city cemetery under direction of Albertson funeral home.

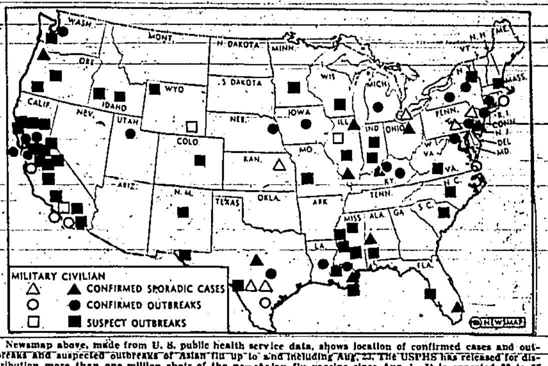
Where Asian Flu Has Struck



Newsmap above, made from U. S. public health service data, shows location of confirmed cases and outbreaks and suspected outbreaks of Asian flu up to and including Aug. 23. The USPHS has released for distribution more than one million shots of the new Asian flu vaccine since Aug. 1. It is expected 80 to 85 million doses will be on hand by the first of next year.

School Health Needs Viewed

BOISE, Sept. 7 (AP)—The development of a unified statewide school health program was urged here yesterday by Idaho's district health department directors at the end of their two-day meeting.

They suggested that the present school health program be revamped in cooperation with the department of education and that emphasis be put on communicable disease control regulations.

The directors said present regulations concerning communicable diseases were outdated and needed revision.

The directors also voted to organize state conferences for local health department directors and suggested an early meeting with the newly-formed state board of health to discuss relationships between the board of health and the district health units.

Taipei Embassy Will Be Opened

TAIPEI, Formosa, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Stars and Stripes will be raised again next week over the remodeled U. S. embassy building which was sacked by Chinese mobs during the May 24 riots.

During rehabilitation of the embassy, the staff has been functioning at the U. S. navy medical research unit building in downtown Taipei. The embassy was badly damaged in the riots which followed the acquittal by a U. S. court martial of an American soldier on trial for the slaying of a Chinese man.

LIGHTNING KILLS TWO

DALLAS, Sept. 7 (AP) — Thunderstorms boomed across central and northwest Texas and into New Mexico last night killing two girls with a blast of lightning.

Two Saved by Quick Use of Pocket Knife

SUPERIOR, Mont., Sept. 7 (AP)—For the second time within a week a surgeon's quick use of a pocket knife was credited with saving a life.

George Case, about 40, ate a sandwich in a restaurant and a piece of meat lodged in his throat. He began coughing and walked outside where he collapsed on a sidewalk.

Sheriff's officers and Dr. W. J. Doyle responded to a call for aid. Doyle said he borrowed a knife from a bystander and cut into the man's windpipe so he could get air. Case was then rushed to a hospital where he was reported doing well.

Case is a safety officer for the Diamond Match company in Superior.

A Missoula physician was credited earlier with saving the life of a 4-year-old boy by using a borrowed pocket knife to open the windpipe. The boy choked shortly after being wheeled to his hospital room from an operating table.

Miss Guerry and G. R. Gregg Wed In T. F. Services

CASTLEFORD, Sept. 7 — Vows were exchanged in a 4 o'clock ceremony last Sunday afternoon in St. Edward's Catholic church in Twin Falls by Marie L. Guerry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Guerry, sr., and Gerald Ray Gregg, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Gregg, Oklahoma City, Okla.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father C. A. Bradley, OSB, at the altar on which was placed tree-type bouquets of pink Aristocrat roses. The side altars were decorated with arrangements of pink chrysanthemums. Two large trees of pink chrysanthemums flanked by spiral candelabra and jade trees occupied a prominent place at the front of the church.

The entrance of the aisle was marked by a wedding arch decorated with jade foliage. The aisle terminated at the Prie Dieux covered with pink satin and draped with garlands of pink flowers and foliage.

The pews were tied with pink satin bows, pink chrysanthemums and lycopodium foliage. Each side of the church was lined with arrangements of jade foliage.

In an original Pandora bridal gown of DuBarry pink nylon tulle the bride was given in marriage by father. The skirt of her gown was fashioned of double layers of ruffles and a long, full encircling train. Jeweled Alencon lace accented the portrait neckline of the dropped waist bodice and the elbow length mitts.

Her full-length matching veil was held in place by a specially designed handmade jeweled coronet. A spray of pink cymbidium orchids accented with ivy leaves was carried on a white Bible brought from the Holy Land, a gift of Mr. and Mrs. James Shields, sr., Buhl.

Her jewelry consisted of white pearl earrings belongink to her mother, a personally designed pearl drop necklace, a gift of the bridegroom, and a ring which belonged to the late grandmother of Mrs. David H. Udall, Tucson, Ariz., her matron of honor.

Mrs. Udall was gowned in pale pink chiffon over a soft pink taffeta. It was designed with a wide neckline and a wide deep watermelon pink sash which fell to the back hemline. Her headdress was a velvet band with a pale pink veil which matched the sash. She wore pale pink mitts and shoes that were of the deep watermelon pink. She carried a cascade bouquet of Rubrum lilies centered with pale pink roses.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Maurice Guerry, jr., Mrs. Ann Hudson, Portland, and Angela Arrien and Joanne Arrien, cousins of the bride. Junior bridesmaids were Delores Ecegary, Elko; Celeste Otazua, Paul, and Alicia Aldana and Elena Aldana, Rupert, all cousins of the bride. All wore gowns styled identical to the matron of honor of deep watermelon pink under pale pink chiffon. Their accessories were the same and they carried cascade bouquets of Rubrum lilies.

Leading the all pink wedding procession was a junior bride and bridegroom. The miniature bride was little Miss Linda Ydo, Ogden, in a gown of pale pink nylon tulle over taffeta. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a floral headpiece. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations. The young bridegroom, Michael Davis, was attired as the other male attendants in the bridal party.

Mary Aquirre, Mountain Home, in white embroidered organdy frock with a pink sash, was flower girl. She wore a pink floral headdress and carried a pink basket of rose petals. Master Stevie Hillis, Salt Lake City, carried the rings on a white satin pillow trimmed with lace.

Ray Strum, Oklahoma City, served as best man. Ushering were Jimmy Guerry and Maurice Guerry, jr., brothers of the bride, Harry Wilson, jr., and Bob McManamon. The latter two also lit the candles.

Ricky Ecegaray, Elko, cousin of the bride, served Father Bradley at the altar during the ceremony.

Music was played by J. Hill at the organ. Mrs. Robert Blastock, jr., and Russell McFarland sang, "Ave Maria" preceding the ceremony, and "Veni Jeus Amor Mi" at the conclusion before the recessional.

An original dress of Autumn haze lace over matching taffeta with satin trim was worn by the bride's mother. She wore accessories of Autumn haze and white and carried a white orchid corsage on her small bag.

The bridegroom's mother selected a pale blue afternoon frock of lace over satin accented with satin trim. She wore matching blue and white accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

The pink color theme was carried out at the reception at the Turf club for approximately 1,000 guests. The club was decorated with arrangements of pink chrysanthemums and jade foliage. Music was provided by Arlan Bastian and his orchestra.

Official hostesses were Mrs. Martin Miller and Mrs. Wilbur Quigley.

Centered on the bride's table which was covered with a hand crocheted cloth over pink, was the five-tiered cake flanked by large sterling candelabra holding pink Renaisance candles. It was trimmed in pink and topped with a pink basket filled with pink flowers. In between each layer were candy bridal shoes and doves. The entire length of the table was centered with a garland of pink carnations and lycopodium foliage which was looped through the tall candelabra and across the table. The other two tables were covered with imported linen cloths from Spain. The centerpieces were arrangements of pink chrysanthemums and pink carnations, each bouquet centered by low sterling candelabra with pink Renaissance candles.

Presiding at the bride's table were Mrs. W. H. Barnard, Mrs. Luke Sonner, Mrs. Glenn Hill, Mrs. Lloyd

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

The avowed aim of education today is the careful instruction toward the development of the individual's potential powers. It is an ideal toward which all teachers and parents strive with prayer and dedicated effort yet one which we scarcely approach in the schools of today. That is not because the teachers do not know their aim, do not yearn toward their ideal, but because of the organization of the schools as they are in actuality.

In our larger towns and great cities we have crowds of pupils. The elementary schools are full and so are the high schools. Costs of education have risen as all other costs and we have not all the trained teachers we need. As things are the outlook for more time, more teachers, more attention to the individual pupil is not bright. Still, the ideal beckons and there are ways of approaching it.

First we ought to allow the individual teacher a chance to be just that, an individual with all that implies of gifts, temperament, faults, aspirations and do not hamper him or her by too rigid organization that is set by people sitting in a remote room with a nice clean sheet of paper and a pencil. The root of this matter lies in the hard fact that a child on that nice clean sheet of paper cannot say a word, cannot make a move, does not live.

While in the classroom, facing the teacher, are many live children who speak out, who insist upon moving about and doing something. As a result the teacher needs all the intelligence, all the skill, all the understanding and all the physical strength at his command to live a step ahead of, not one child, but 30, 40 and 50, as the case may be. Individual instruction is in many classrooms a hope, a dream, an ideal.

Some of this can be accomplished if the teacher is free of imposed programs. Such a teacher starts with the whole group, a unit of instruction and gradually reaches the place and the time where individual differences are discovered and ways of dealing with them found.

The beginning teacher needs the friendly help of the experienced teacher or supervisor, the experienced teacher helps more because the beginner is in fear of a supervisor, however well-intentioned he may be, but every teacher should be encouraged to work out his own program so that he finds time, and occasion, to help the individual pupil as his needs demand.

Given this encouragement to strike out for himself the teacher will grow in understanding and power, something the imposed, detailed program will never do, and the individual pupil will have a better chance in the crowded classroom.

Area Woman Is Claimed as Wife Of G. A. Bessire

MURTAUGH, Sept. 7—Mrs. Thora Bates Christofferson, daughter of Mrs. Lymon Bates, Norwalk, Calif., and the late Mr. Bates, Murtaugh, and Glenn A. Bessire, son of Mrs. Ida Mae Bessire, Twin Falls, were married Monday afternoon at the cabin of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Pomroy in the Magic mountain area in the south hills.

Elder Dave G. Moyes, Twin Falls, of the LDS church, officiated at the double ring ceremony before the fireplace flanked by bouquets of gladioli with mantle arrangements of bouquets of asters and bowls of petunias.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Grant Bates. She wore a champagne lined white lace street-length dress with white accessories and a small white hat. She carried an orchid surrounded by stephanotis and organdy streamers.

The bride was attended by her two daughters, Edith Dee Christofferson and Patsy Lee Christerofferson. They wore dresses of rose and pink and corsages of pink roses and white carnations.

Glenn E. Bessire and Dewayne Bessire were attendants for their father.

Maylin B. Bessire, also a son of the bridegroom, was ringbearer. The flowergirls, Shelly Breeding and Byrne, Mrs. Johnny Blick and Mrs. Saul Moore.

Serving the cake were Mrs. O. H. Weinrich, Mrs. E. W. McBratney, Mrs. George Blick, Mrs. Chester McClain, Mrs. Fred Ringert and Mrs. Bill Ulrich.

Pouring coffee were Mrs. Harry Simon, Mrs. Laura Heller and Mrs. Glenn Jenkins.

At the bridegroom's appropriately decorated table, Ester Ann McClain served the individually wrapped small cakes.

Mary Carol Hill registered the guests. Arranging the gifts for display were Mrs. Fred Van Englen, Mrs. Gene Todd and Mrs. Allan Pierce.

For her traveling ensemble the bride chose a suit in autumn colors featuring a scissor cut jacket and complementing accessories of brown and burnt orange. She wore a matching chrysanthemum corsage with brown velvet leaves.

Following a trip to Sun Valley the couple will return to spend a few days with the bride's parents before going to Seattle. They will make their home at 1121 Apache, Norman, Okla., until they move to Tucson, Ariz., next summer to reside permanently.

The bride was graduated from high school in Arizona and attended the University of Arizona, Tucson, where she was affiliated with Delta Delta Delta, social sorority, and FST Junior women's honorary. She was graduated cum laudi from Arizona State university, Tempe, where she took post graduate work. She was employed by the juvenile probation department in San Diego.

The bridegroom received his degree in business administration from Oklahoma State college, Stillwater, where he was affiliated with Sigma Nu social fraternity and Blue Key senior men's honorary. He spent three years as an officer and pilot in the air force. He is completing his studies at the University of Oklahoma, Norman, School of Law and is an officer in the Oklahoma air national guard.

Out-of-town guests attended from Oregon, Washington, Utah, Nevada, Oklahoma, Arizona and Idaho.

A pre-nuptial bridge luncheon honored the bride at the home of Mrs. Barnard with Mrs. Milton Maegleby as co-hostess. Mrs. Glenn Hill, Mrs. George Blick, Mrs. John Blick, Mrs. Martin Miller, Mrs. Wilbur Quigley, Mrs. Laura Heller and Mrs. Fred Ringert and Mrs. Chester McClain honored the former Miss Guerry at a tea. She was feted at a dinner by college friends in Tucson and at a kitchen shower by friends in California.

Members and families of the bridal party were entertained at a rehearsal dinner at the Turf club.

BRUINS TROUNCE SNAKE RIVER 31-0 IN SEASON GRID OPENER

Strong Line, Breakaway Running of Ulrich, Stowe Pace Twin Falls Victory

Unveiling two break-away runners in John Ulrich and Mike Stowe plus a strong forward wall, the Twin Falls Bruins romped to a 31-0 win over Snake River high school Saturday night. Outclassed and outweighed, the Snake River team never was in the ballgame as John Ulrich raced 65 yards for a touchdown the first time Twin Falls got its hands on the ball. The Bruins played the entire game under wraps, coach Bob Hilliard instructing his quarterbacks to use only three plays. However, the win proved costly to Twin Falls as starting end John Hill was sidelined for the rest of the season when his collar bone was broken in the second quarter.

The game opened with Twin Falls kicking off and forcing Snake River to punt without getting a first down. Ulrich gathered the kick in at his own 35 and then raced all the way, getting a key block from Ken Eslinger.

The Bruins pushed the visitors around during the rest of the quarter and then fullback Dave Angerbauer plunged over from three yards out. His plunge was set up by the running of Mike Stowe, who picked up 23 yards in two plays and Terry Randolph's eight yard scamper.

After each team tried unsuccessfully to gain a first down, Twin Falls blocked a Snake River punt and recovered the ball on the 45-yard line. On the next play, Stowe, behind the key blocks of Dee Taylor and Ulrich, romped off tackle for 55 yards and Twin Falls led 18-0 at halftime.

Twin Falls received the kick to open the second half and used just nine plays to score again on a 66-yard march. Stowe returned the kick-off to the 34-yard line and John Daum picked up four in two plays. Stowe went through tackle for nine, Lane Staples added another six and Stowe came back for eight more. Then Daum swept around end for 11, added nine on the next play and picked up one more seconds later. Stowe carried the ball three yards to the five and Daum punched it over on his third try.

Trying to fight back into the game, Snake River began turning heavily to its passing attack, but could complete only three over the Bruin defense. The teams fought to nearly a standstill for several minutes before Dee Larson set up the Bruins' last score by recovering a fumble on the Snake River 26-yard line. With Daum and Staples doing most of the work, the Bruins moved the ball down to the three-yard line and Staples shoved it into the end zone from there.

Snake River finally got moving in the final period following the kick-off, as Richard Bair, a standout for the visitors all night, swept right end for 19 yards. He followed that run up with another 13-yard romp, bringing the ball to the Bruin 26. But two pass plays and a pair of end runs could gain nothing and the game ended as the Bruins took over on downs.

Coach Hilliard had special praise for his backfield of Stowe, Ulrich, Randolph and Angerbauer plus the added halfback work turned in by Staples and Daum. He also commended the entire line for its defensive work, particularly on some fine downfield blocking.

Highlight for Snake River was the quarterbacking of Stubb Lent. Bair, John Hammond and Ron Caldwell also showed up well.

The contest was a warmup for the Bruins' game at Las Vegas, Nev., next Friday. The following week they enter Big Six conference play here against Idaho Falls.

Kimberly Uses Passes to Nip T. F. Jayvees

KIMBERLY, Sept. 7 — Utilizing two pass plays, the Kimberly Bulldogs posted a 14-0 halftime margin over Twin Falls sophomores here Friday night and then coasted in for a 20-7 victory.

Coach John Beattie and Twin Falls coach Orville Ryther substituted freely in the second period.

Dick Davis got the Bulldogs into the lead in the first quarter when he lofted a pass to Warren Schoth that went for 40 yards and the touchdown. In the second period, a Louis Eilers to Dave Morris pass went for 18 yards and the second score. Then Eilers electrified the home crowd when he returned the third quarter kick-off 85 yards behind excellent blocking by the Bulldogs line. Schoth carried off tackle for the first extra point and Davis got the second on a plunge.

Twin Falls finally chalked up its lone tally in the fourth period after intercepting a Kimberly pass and downing the ball on the 40-yard line. A series of plays, highlighted by an 18-yard end run, placed the ball on the 12-yard line and Ford scampered in from there. Then Ford went going off tackle for the extra point.

Jacks Stop Dodger Rally For 4-3 Win

MISSOULA, Mont., Sept. 7 (AP)—Aaron Jones struck out the final two batters after a triple by Gus Sancimino in the ninth. That ended the game and gave Missoula a 4-3 victory over Great Falls.

Jones gave up only five hits. One of them was a homerun by Carl Staab with two men on base. That was in the seventh and accounted for all Dodger tallies.

Jones fanned Staab and losing pitcher Jack Smith in the ninth to end the rally.

Wayne Tucker's fly in the first brought home Don Dantoni who had singled and moved to third on walks. The Timberjacks got three more in the fifth frame on an RBI double by Dick Greco and a single of Chuck Weatherspoon's, good for two.

Missoula and Great Falls meet one more time this year—on Sunday. That ends the Pioneer League season. The Jacks are jockeying with Pocatello and Salt Lake Bees are batting for the cellar. Final standings await the outcome of Sunday's final games.

Russets Rally In Ninth to Beat Billings

IDAHO FALLS, Sept. 7 (AP) — The Idaho Falls Russets came from behind in the ninth inning with two away and beat the Pioneer league leading Billings Mustangs 3-2 Saturday night.

And if the Russets do it again Sunday in the last game of the season, there is a very good chance Magic Valley and not Billings will win the second-half championship.

If Magic Valley wins Sunday and Billings loses, the crown goes to the Cowboys. If it comes out any other way, the Mustangs win.

Gordie Maxwell led off the ninth for Idaho Falls with a bunt single. After two outs, Bob Scarlato walked and Al Luce socked a ball into deep right, with Maxwell scoring from second. Scarlato went to third, and scampered home on an error. That tally won the game.

Roberto Vera led off with a solo homer for the first Mustang tally in the third and in the eighth, with one out, Bob Sadowski blasted pitch over the scoreboard corner for another score.

The Russets started the scoring with a lone run in the first when Jess Queen walked, went to second on an infield out and came home on Jack Risch's single.

Boise Edges A's in Final Game of Year

BOISE Sept. 7 (AP) — The Boise Braves eked out a 9-8 Pioneer league triumph here Saturday over the Pocatello Athletics in the final game of the season for both teams.

Boise ended the season in sixth place with a record of 27 wins and 37 losses. After Saturday night's play Pocatello was tied for third with Missoula, both teams five games off the pace. Idaho Falls was in fourth, 5½ behind.

Idaho Falls and Missoula both have Sunday games which could drop Pocatello below third place.

Boise trailed by one run at the beginning of the ninth. Bobby King doubled and Gayle Moore singled, with King landing on third. Diz Johnson hit a slow roller to Joe Ala at third. But Ala's throw to the plate was not quick enough to catch King who scored.

However, the relay back to third caught Moore. Bob Jacoby walked and Maury Lerner hit to first base and the resulting error allowed Johnson to score the winner.

Rick Rogers for Pocatello and Johnson and Bob Warner for Boise hit homers earlier in the contest.

Vandal Booster Officers Make Plans

Gus Pene, center, newly elected president of the local Vandal boosters, and Jim Blandford, Kimberly, secretary-treasurer, left, go over some unfinished business with last year's president, Harold Hove, Kimberly. The Boosters will begin their fall activities Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Rogerson hotel at a meeting to be attended by University of Idaho head basketball coach Harlan Hodges, and Frank Young, assistant athletic director. All Magic Valley Vandal boosters are invited. (Staff photo-engraving)

Idaho Hoop Coach to Attend First Meeting of Local Vandal Boosters

Vandal Boosters of this area will begin their annual activities to support the athletic program of the University of Idaho by conducting a meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Rogerson hotel. Newly elected president Gus Pene reports Harlan Hodges, head basketball coach at the university, and Frank Young, assistant athletic director, will attend the meeting. At the same time, Pene, who replaces Harold Hove, Kimberly, as president, announced that Jim Blandford, Kimberly, has been named secretary-treasurer of the local group.

Pene said plans for the two biggest activities to be undertaken by the local group will be discussed at the Tuesday meeting.

Final arrangements for the annual booster drive will be made and the campaign should begin within the next 10 days. Chairman of the drive will be announced at a later date, he added.

The second big topic for discussion will concern the University of Idaho - Utah State university basketball game to be played in Twin Falls during the Christmas holidays.

In addition to these local activities, the group is striving to stimulate greater interest in the Vandal athletic program, particularly for the Vandal-University of Utah football game to be played in Boise Oct. 5. Pene noted the Boise game offers the closest point at which local supporters can see the Vandal football team in action. He added the games played at Boise in the past few years have been of great assistance in awakening public support of the Vandals, noting larger delegations of Magic Valley fans attend the game each year.

But the important part of the Tuesday agenda will be formulating final plans for the fund drive, Pene pointed out this area contributed more than $1,000 for use of procuring top grade athletes at the university through grant-in-aid. However, he stressed the point that all funds, while specifically earmarked for that purpose, are supervised and administrated under the Pacific Coast conference aid rules.

He also said Hodges and Young will probably give a brief outline on the athletic outlook for the university in 1957-58. He urged all boosters, graduates of the university and persons interested in better athletic programs for Idaho to attend the meeting.

Pirates Take 14-0 Victory From Trojans

MALTA, Sept. 7—The Hagerman Pirates fought off two Raft River high school scoring thrusts within their own 10-yard line in the first half and then bounced back in the second half with two touchdowns and carried home a 14-0 win Thursday.

After battling most of the first two periods on equal terms, the Raft River Trojans marched inside the Pirates 10-yard line, but couldn't punch the ball over. In the second half, their offense was stymied by several fumbles.

After turning back Raft River's best, the Pirates began turning their attention to offense, and in the third quarter mounted a scoring march, moving the ball mostly on line plays. Then in the fourth quarter, they began sending their backs around end and moved the ball into paydirt again. Both tries at extra points were successful.

DETROIT, Sept. 7 (AP)—Southpaw Herb Score of the Cleveland Indians will not pitch again this season.

General Manager Hank Greenberg said Friday night that the young pitcher, out since May 7 when he was struck in the left eye by a line drive off the bat of Gil McDougald, will do nothing more than throw batting practice for the rest of the season.

Score, who pitched only 36 innings before he was sidelined, still has trouble with "depth perception," Greenberg said.

Rademacher Eyes New Bout Offers

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (AP) — Pete Rademacher, Olympic heavyweight boxing champion who opened his pro career by fighting world champion Floyd Patterson, still was in doubt about his ring future Friday after a conference with International Boxing club officials and former titleholder Joe Louis.

The IBC repeated its offer of $20,000 for Rademacher to fight any one of four top heavyweights on a nationally televised card. The Olympic gold medal winner said he would study the offer en route home and would make a decision after conferring with his boxing advisers. He has no manager of record.

Rademacher told Harry Markson of the IBC, he was especially interested in the TV angle of the bout because it would help publicize Youth, Inc., of which he is a vice president. Patterson flattened Rademacher in the sixth round of their bout on Aug. 23 in Seattle.

Stevens Leads Declo Past Huskies 51-0

HANSEN, Sept. 7 — With Dick Stevens leading the way, Declo raced past the Hansen Huskies here Friday night for a 51-0 win in the season opener for both schools.

Stevens, an all-round athlete at Declo, scampered across the goal line four times on the ground and was credited with another touchdown as he gathered in a pass from Dean Branner.

Branner also showed mid-season form against the Huskies, connecting for two other touchdown passes during the tilt and he flipped a short pass over the line for one of Declo's three extra points. Also contributing to the Declo scoring parade were Bruce Newcomb, Tom Asher and Cecil Matlock, each of whom scored once.

The outscored Huskies could not get their offense rolling against the Declo line and penetrated to the winners' 20-yard line only once.

Jerome Beats Gooding As Loop Play Begins

JEROME, Sept. 7—The Jerome Tigers turned loose a fleet backfield that stormed over Gooding's Senators 43-13 here tonight in the opening Cross State league game for both teams. Bud Smail, Tiger quarterback, forced the action for the winners but he shared the spotlight with Gooding's Marvin Harding, who scored all 13 points for the losers.

Small started the scoring for Jerome with a four-yard end run in the first period. In the second, Leo Thiabault scampered across the goal line from 25 yards out and Ron Kulm followed a few minutes later on a 34-yard jaunt. The Tigers scored once more in the first half with fullback Vic Meyer carrying the ball into the end zone from five yards out on a trap play.

As the third period got under way, Small got off on another touchdown spurt from seven yards out but a penalty nullified the play. Then on the next play, Larry Silver shoved the ball across the line again and this time the points counted.

Gooding got rolling in the third period when a pass from Ron Hill to Harding, covering 16 yards, went for a touchdown and capped an 80-yard drive by the Senators. Harding added the extra point. Then minutes later, he intercepted a Tiger pass on his own 45-yard line and went all the way and that ended the scoring for Gooding.

But the Tigers got those points back in the fourth quarter when Small hit Jerry Wegg in the end zone shortly after the quarter started. Thiabault then finished it up with a 20-yard jaunt and Ardell Schockley kicked the extra points.

Coaches Jerry Dellinger and Lou Hirschmann substituted freely in the game. Although the Tigers piled up 15 first downs to Gooding's five, they were penalized for a total of 60 yards. Gooding lost 35 yards through penalties.

Pierce Hurls 19th Win for White Sox

By The Associated Press

Little Luis Aparicio Saturday hit the fourth and fifth homers of his major league career, driving across four runs, and Billy Pierce hurled his 19th victory as the Chicago White Sox defeated the Kansas City A's 8-2. A 6-run fourth turned the trick for the Sox.

Aparicio led off the game for the Sox with an inside-the-park homer, but in the fourth belted an honest-to-goodness homer into the left field stands with two mates aboard. He also singled in the third.

Whitey Ford, pitching his first complete game in more than a month, hurled the crippled New York Yankees to an 8-hit, 4-1 victory over the Washington Senators at Griffith stadium.

Roy Seivers, the American league's homerun and RBI leader, saved Washington from a shutout by slamming his 36th homer over the left field fence in the ninth.

At Fenway park pressure-proof Pete Daley hit a tie-making home run and Frank Malzone followed with a 2-run single for Boston's 4-3 victory over Baltimore.

Connie Johnson, the Orioles' lean righthander, had a 2-0 lead on a two-hitter going into the bottom of the seventh inning when the Sox concentrated an offensive in one swift jolt.

The Cleveland Indians belted Detroit right hander Frank Lary for four runs in the first two innings and had to fight off a pair of late Tiger rallies for a 5-4 triumph.

Local Golfers Show Well in Nevada Open

ELKO, Sept. 7 (AP)—Billy Johnston of Provo, Utah, Saturday led the field in the third round of the $2,500 Nevada Open golf tournament.

Johnston shot a 63 Friday on the par-72 Ruby View course. That tied the course record.

The defending champion, Johnston went into the third round with a 36-hole total of 131. Two strokes behind was John Zontek of Perkins, Calif.

The 72-hole tourney winds up Sunday.

Dick Sheppard of Twin Falls led the amateurs with rounds of 67 and 68.

Al Feldman and Ken Stil, both Tacoma, Wash., professionals, were close behind Johnston and Zontek, with 135s. Feldman shot a 66 in the second round, Stil shot a 68.

At 138 were Cliff Whittle of Twin Falls, Dick Kramer of Salt Lake City and Tony Lama of Elko. Lema fired 66 the second round, Kramer 69 and Whittle 72.

Ned Oldham of Cuyahoga Falls, O., captain of the navy football team, led the Middies in ground gaining the last two seasons.

Basilio Plans To Break Camp

ALEXANDRIA BAY, N. Y., Sept. (AP) — Carmen Basilio will break amp here Sunday instead of next hursday.

The welterweight champion, who opes to take Sugar Ray Robinson's iddleweight crown Sept. 23, said iday he was reaching "peak conition."

"All I need now is just a little box g to keep me sharp," Basilio said. I'm as ready for Robinson as I'll e."

Basilio said he would continue his orkouts in Syracuse and continue o his home in Chittenango, 16 miles way.

Schmidt Gains Fourth Place in Loop Hitting

In a late season drive, Bill Schmidt, Cowboy catcher, has blasted is way into the top four hitters of the Pioneer league with a .339 verage and wrested the team bat honors from last week's pace setter, om Clarkson.

Schmidt, who boasted a .345 mark in the Evangeline league before oining the Cowboys in mid season, had trouble getting started, but as raised his average a few points each week. His performance in last eek's action boosted his average 26 points over the previous week.

Clarkson fell into the runner-up spot although he raised his average y two points to .318. In third place is Lou Jackson, who, after leading he Cowboys most of the first half of the season, fell into a minor ump. But he has returned to the .300 circle with .306.

Manager Walt Dixon continued to hover around the .300 mark, but nded up a point away and Denny Loudenback dropped six points to 93. Hitting .292 was Bill Denney.

Despite the increases shown by the top three individuals, the Cowboy am mark remained at .269, which is still the worst in the league. nd the team fell from fourth to fifth place in defense with a .956 elding record. Denney was one of the top percentage pitchers in the ague with a .714 average for his 10-4 record.

State Asks Deer Hunters' Aid to Conduct Survey

Although it sounds odd, persons hunting this year in the Cassia division of the South hills are asked by the Idaho fish and game department to be on the look out for belled deer. Part of the department's effort to discover the impact on winter areas in both Nevada and Idaho, the deer were belled last winter south of the Idaho-Nevada line, reports Dale Tanner, game biologist.

Some 225 deer were tagged by the two states to find the migration paterns of the deer and especially to discover the use of Nevada winter ranges by deer normally summering in this state.

Tanner said the deer, trapped in several different places, were marked by metal discs in their ears in addition to the bells. They were atached with various colored collors, which designate the area in which the animal was trapped.

Tanner also suggested that all persons entering the south hills watch for the bells, paying particular attention to the collar colors, which usually are red and white designs.

Explaining why the two methods of marking were used Tanner said "the tags, returned by hunters at checking stations during the hunting season, gives the place the animal was killed but reveals nothing of the animal's travels during the summer and spring." For that reason, the bells, which furnish a more complete picture of the animal's year-round movements, were used.

Hunters killing deer and don't report through checking stations are asked to send the discs into the department.

This is the second tagging program the two states have undertaken, the first being completed in 1951. Since that time, only five of the deer have been killed, but reports about deer in the various areas have enabled both departments to better understand the moving traits of the deer.

The last program showed that deer often travel distances of 90 miles between their summer and winter ranges. And, all the deer from one area do not move to the same wintering place.

Burley's Pass Attack Beats Filer 12-6

FILER, Sept. 7—A third-quarter pass from Burley's Wilson to Don Peterson proved the winning margin as the Bobcats beat the homestanding Filer Wildcats 12-6 Saturday night. It was the first game in the Cross State league conference for both teams.

Burley had gotten its first touchdown in the second quarter when Bob Symons swept around left end from 10 yards out.

Trailing 12-0 as the final period opened, the Wildcats opened up with a passing attack to loosen the Bob- inside its 10 yard line twice and Bur- through the ground to put on a march that ended with Gary Grindstaff going the final two yards.

Tough defensive play highlighted the game with Filer holding Burley period when a pass from Ron Hill ley stopping Filer once. All three situations gave the offensive team first downs with less than the 10 yards to go.

Braves Insure Lead With Win Over Chicago

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Milwaukee's stopper, Warren Spahn, pitched a five-hitter and was backed by the homeruns of Wes Covington and Andy Pafko as the National league-leading Braves snapped a three-game losing streak with a 7-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs Saturday night.

Pee Wee Reese's run scoring single in the seventh inning and Roger Craig's tight relief pitching brought the Brooklyn Dodgers a 5-4 victory over the homestanding New York Giants.

All eight of the other runs were driven in by homers. Duke Snider hit a three-run blast in the sixth and Carl Furillo swatted a solo in the fifth for Brooklyn. New York's Valmy Thomas hit a four-bagger good for three runs in the second and Willie Mays whacked one with the bases empty in the ninth.

Lindy McDaniel hurled seven innings of two-run relief and Wally Moon, Del Ennis and Irv Noren drove in all the Cardinals runs as second-place St. Louis defeated visiting Cincinnati 7-4.

McDaniel came on in the second inning with the bases loaded and one out. He allowed an RBI single to Frank Robinson but closed out the inning without further scoring.

Lindy relieved his brother, Von, also a $50,000 bonus beauty. It was Lindy's 13th victory in 21 decisions.

At Pittsburgh the Pirates combed Philadelphia pitchers Jack Sanford and Tom Qualters for six runs in the first seven innings to whip the Phillies 6-3 and chalk up their fourth consecutive victory.

Bonus pitcher Art Swanson 3-2 received credit for the victory although he needed help in the seventh inning when the Phillies threatened.

1956 Northside Champions Must Replace 10 Regulars

CAREY, Sept. 7—Northside conference defending champions, the Carey Panthers, enter the 1957 season without 10 of the regulars that gave them the crown and have just seven other veterans to fill up the gaps.

Football coach Bob Shay reports a wide-open race for the quarterback and center positions is being waged during early practice and several non-lettermen are pushing veterans for starting berths.

"We will have a good team but it will be light," Shay says. "Our line will average about 140 pounds and the backfield about 135. But," he adds, "we will try and make it interesting for all."

Shay has a pair of two-year men in Everett Perry, an end, and LeGrand Dilworth, a back. One year veterans include Bob Whitby, a tackle; Kent Briggs, back; David Dallos, tackle; Don Rush, end; Bob Sweet, back; Don Munson, guard; Kurt Pyrah, back, and Doug Patterson, center.

Counted on to pick up the slack and add depth to the team are several top prospects. In the backfield Shay has Monte Roseberry, Heber Kirkland, Lee Edwards and Tom Patterson. Top prospects for the line are Tony Albrethsen, Orin Dilworth, James Pratt, John Briggs and Ray Cross.

From that squad, Shay will face the task of replacing such standouts as Dug and Dar Parke, Joe Dilworth, John Barton, Tracy Perry and Ralph Price. All were lost through graduation and all played important parts in bringing the league crown to Carey.

Schedule for the Panthers includes Sept. 13, Carey at Dietrich; Sept. 20, Murtaugh at Carey; Sept. 27, Carey at Camas county; Oct. 4, Richfield at Carey; Oct. 11, Carey at Bellevue, and Oct. 25, Hagerman at Carey.

Coach Shay also is looking for a game for an open date, Oct. 18.

Los Angeles Fans Wonder if They Are Getting Dodge From Brooklyn

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 7 (AP)—There's no panic in the streets yet, but a lot of baseball fans here have started to worry in a hurry about the possibility of getting the dodge from the Dodgers next year. It wasn't too many days ago that the Brooklyn baseball club was considered almost certain to arrive here next spring. But there is widespread anxiety now that this sprawling metropolitan area of five million souls may have to watch minor league ball again next year while rival San Francisco is sitting in on the big show.

County supervisor Kenneth Hahn, one of the chief agents in the drive to bring the Dodgers here, is still confident of snaring Brooklyn for 1958. But he sounded a little worried Friday when he said:

"Time is running out and we must move fast."

And Harold McClellan, the industrialist appointed to represent the city and county in talks with the Dodgers, acknowledged that there is "justification for concern about this thing," although he added that the opportunity "is still here."

Mayor Norris Poulson, also previously confident that the Dodgers were coming, has indicated that his confidence may be on the decline by saying that if the Dodgers don't move in some other big league team certainly will.

The mayor's statement got this reception Friday from a sports columnist:

"Someone else some day will be mayor, too, but that doesn't help us right now."

In a column addressed to "city hall," Melvin Durslag of the Examiner wrote:

"Please get off the 10-cent piece. With the Giants secured for San Francisco, we are laughing with tears in our eyes."

What this complaint amounts to is that no one has yet given Dodger President Walter O'Malley a firm offer.

But McClellan says that involves considerably more work than getting an invitation engraved.

"There were discussions before I came on," he said, "but there were innumerable obstacles; the solutions to which had not been found at all. In a few weeks, we have found a way through all these obstacles, provided the parties involved are willing to accept it . . . All the facts will be clearly before all the parties in the next few days."

The biggest problem is getting a site on which O'Malley can build a ball park. The city owns some land in Chavez ravine—near downtown—but less than half as much as O'Malley would like. And it may take some legal doing to enlarge the site.

Hahn says O'Malley would like to get title to the property in a trade that would give the city Wrigley Field, which O'Malley bought this year. But at least one member of the city council, Charles Navarro, is not too hot on such a trade.

Yale's 1957 football team includes seven lettermen who are residents of Illinois.

Vandals Ease Off Intense Training

MOSCOW, Ida., Sept. 7 (AP)—Coach Skip Stahley eased off on workouts Friday and Saturday for the University of Idaho Vandals.

Summer temperatures near 90 helped to bring about a slow down decision Friday. The Vandals ran through a light morning session and worked out in sweatsuits in the afternoon.

Only one practice session was scheduled Saturday.

Workouts so far have been rugged and bruises and sore muscles in appropriate number.

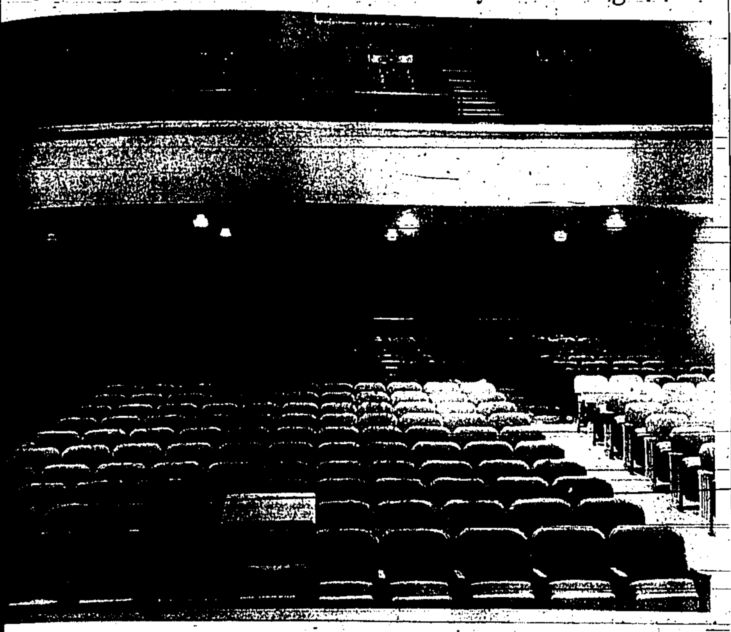
Junior High School Auditorium Ready for Use Again



This photo of the completely-renovated auditorium at the Twin alls junior high school was taken from the stage. Entire interior the auditorium was removed at start of the project which entailed mplete reconstruction of auditorium from floor to roof. All new seats were installed on the main floor, but old seats are used on balcony. The auditorium was closed all last school year as a safety measure after beams in ceiling were found to be defective and heavy ceiling plaster hazardous. (Staff photo-engraving)

Two classrooms in the old Lincoln school building have been con-rted into modern dressing rooms for athletic contests at Lincoln eld. The basement rooms were considered not suitable for regular study rooms and were renovated into new shower and locker rooms. The door to the left leads into the new shower rooms. Overall cost for the project was around $3,500. (Staff photo-engraving)

Junior High School Auditorium Heads List of School Projects

The completely rebuilt auditorium at the junior high school is ready for use again after being closed for months, reports Supt. Ernest H. Ragland. The new auditorium is the most extensive of Twin Falls school projects under way now or recently completed.

The auditorium was closed about two years ago when faulty beams were found in the ceiling over the auditorium. Further inspection revealed heavy masses of plaster in the ceiling which constituted a further hazard. Following complete inspection of the auditorium, school trustees decided the entire auditorium must be reconstructed from the floor up to make it completely safe.

Everything was removed from the interior of the auditorium at the start of the project. The auditorium is completely new with the exception of some old seats installed on the balcony.

Total cost of the auditorium has been $49,809 with funds coming from the 1955 bond issue. General construction costs were $35,385 while seating required $8,084. Stage curtains and lighting cost $3,521.

Ragland points out that the auditorium project was not contemplated at the time the 1955 bond issue was approved. Actual work on the auditorium didn't start until November of last year.

Completion of the project was delayed more when the wrong seats were delivered and had to be returned, Ragland notes. The right seats were delivered only recently. The auditorium seats 550 people. Special attention was given to acoustics during the rebuilding project.

Other projects greeting students when they returned to classrooms last Tuesday were more lights on Lincoln field, athletic locker and shower rooms built in the basement of Lincoln school to replace the old fieldhouse which was sold and moved during the summer, and the start of construction of a new athletic field at the high school.

Total cost of the projects, including the auditorium, will be about $70,000. About $3,500 was spent for locker rooms and showers in the basement of Lincoln school.

"By this renovation of basement classrooms, we have saved more than $20,000," says Ragland. "Cost of a new fieldhouse for Lincoln field would have run upwards of $5,000."

He points out that the basement classrooms converted into lockers and shower rooms were not suitable for class use. They had been abandoned after two new elementary schools were opened last year.

It had been estimated that renovation of the old fieldhouse and necessary work would have cost at least $5,000.

Lincoln field also received improvements in the form of some $1,500 worth of new lighting. Ragland says 20 new 1,500-watt lamps were added to improve the field for night games. The lights can be moved to the high school when the new field there is ready for use.

Under construction at the high school is a new cinder track and football field. The track is expected to be the best in Magic Valley. Ragland says it may be ready for use next spring. On the other hand, the football field probably won't be ready for use until the fall of 1958 to permit grass to become established and good sod to be built.

Ragland points out that the 1955 bond issue specified that a new athletic field should be built at the high school so Lincoln field could be used as a playground for elementary students at Lincoln school. "This is a public obligation, and we hope that a satisfactory split can be made," he said.

With completion of the athletic field and track work at the high school, the remainder of funds from the 1955 bond election will have been used. The $1,103,000 bond issue financed two elementary schools, Harrison and Morningside; extensive renovation work at the junior high school, including a new heating and ventilation system; and lesser improvements at the other grade schools.

"One important factor which should be observed," said Ragland, "is that six months after construction began on our original projects —those provided in the bond issue— they were in use."

Ragland says the initial construction was a smoothly operated plan and a good example of teamwork.

"Constituents of the school district have faced up to their school problem and we of the school administration are deeply appreciative," Ragland notes.

Name of Man Almost Synonymous With Bellevue Annual Labor Day Celebration

BELLEVUE, Sept. 7—To the people of Bellevue, the name of Ezra Carr is almost synonymous with their Labor day celebration. He has been chairman of the event for so many years few seem to remember when anyone else handled the reins.

For a community the size of Bellevue, the annual Labor day celebration is quite an undertaking. Bellevue is not a large city, but it is a city having one of the oldest charters in the state. Each year on Labor day it draws hundreds of persons who go to Bellevue just to take part in the annual event. One woman from New York has made it a point to be present at the last five celebrations.

The celebration in honor of labor at Bellevue dates back to the days when the city was the hub of a lot of mining operation in Wood river valley. Much of the mining now is a thing of the past but the celebration goes on and on and on.

Preparations for the event each year begin when the Wood River Chamber of Commerce decides again to undertake the project. But the chamber does not reckon without the women's organizations. Chief among them are the Ladies Aid and the Civic club.

While perhaps it is Carr's organization and drive that make the celebration a success, it's Bob McClure's genius that makes the barbecue the delectable part of the program.

This year McClure ran into lots of trouble before the 1,500 pounds of boned beef went into the barbecue pits. Five pits were dug side by side in their usual place on the hillside which dips down from Main street to the city park by the Big Wood river.

Metal liners were placed around each pit and then the rain began to fall—it fell as though it had never rained before and more than a foot of water gathered in the bottom of each pit.

Fortunately, the rain stopped before the day of the celebration and McClure and his helpers had to bail out the water before they could start the barbecuing fires.

The meat, wrapped in 50-pound packages and sewn into flour sacks, was placed in the pits Sunday evening and up to the time it was taken out McClure was worried that it wouldn't be "just right."

Everyone at the celebration agreed the meat was the best ever so now McClure is wondering if the extra moisture and extra fuel are assets.

In addition to the extra moisture and extra fuel, McClure added another "extra" to his barbecuing this year. His $125 watch dropped into one of the pits while he was piling on wood. He hasn't found it yet but he's pretty sure it's well barbecued.

About a half hour before the pits are opened, water is sprayed on top

Sportsmen Are Asked to Sign Pledges in Move for Good Will

The wraps on a new plan to promote good will between sportsmen and land owners were taken off at the Twin Falls county fair by representatives of the state fish and game department.

The backbone of the plan, promoted by the Landholder-Sportsman council, of which Walter Little, New Plymouth, is chairman, is a signed pledge on the part of sportsmen to abide by the laws, to respect the rights and property of others and to be careful with fire and firearms.

The signed pledges are kept by the council while an identification card, detached from the pledge, is retained by the sportsmen. The insignia on both the pledge and the identification card is an inverted triangle with the landholder at the top and the sportsmen and the fish and game department as the two sides.

Hunting-by permission signs are being made available to landholders who can ask sportsmen to show their identification cards before granting permission to hunt.

Landholders who post their land with "hunting by permission" signs also are provided with red signs to indicate closed areas on their farms.

Game department officials who collected pledges in the state department's booth at the fair, report that hundreds of sportsmen have signed the pledges and that the only rejection was from a man who said he thought it was a good idea but that he didn't hunt.

Gooding School Enrollment Spirals Rapidly

Enrollment in Gooding schools took a sharp upswing this fall when six sets of twins enrolled in the first grades. The pupils are not all in the same classroom but are in first grades. In the front row, left to right, are John and Jimmy Braga (or vice versa), sons of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Braga, and Charles and Deborah Prince, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Prince. In the second row are James and John Hollifield (or vice versa again), sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hollifield, and John and Jane Bradley, children of Mr. and Mrs. John Bradley. In the rear are Sheryl and Daryl Tompkins, children of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Tompkins, and May and Wayne James, children of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. James. Teachers were somewhat surprised by so many twins in the first grade. (Staff photo-engraving)

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Ever hear the story about the man who dug a hole and then dug another to bury the dirt from the first? Some people in PAUL tried it with water. The Paul hotel, which was converted to classrooms for Paul pupils this fall, was built in 1919 because Henry Grim, a Paul pioneer, thought Paul would become the gateway to the Minidoka project. For a time the two-story hotel prospered but after the sugar factory closed, depression hit the community and the hotel was converted into apartments. At the time the hotel was built a basement was dug for a number of rooms.

The basement wasn't of much use, especially in the summer. Seepage water sometimes filled the basement to a depth of three and four feet. During his lifetime Grim tried to keep the water pumped from the basement.

In 1948 the building was sold to Parley Croft, HEYBURN, who decided the basement could be drained permanently. To do this he drilled a dry well to a depth of 65 feet. The plan worked for a time and then Croft discovered he would have to drain off all the subterranean water in the area if he ever expected to get the basement dry.

After his death the hotel was taken over by his son, Howland Croft, who, like his father, thought he could lick the problem. He'd simply drill a deeper well. At 132 feet the drillers hit water which, instead of staying down where it belonged, bubbled out the well hole. It ran across the basement floor and down into the 65-foot hole Croft's father had dug.

With that, Croft gave up and filled the basement with 900 yards of dirt.

The village of HANSEN has a problem that is biting at it from two directions.

It's pretty well recognized that Americans, nowadays, use a lot more water than they did 10 or 20 years ago. The problem this water use presents is far from being peculiar to Hansen, many communities are facing the same thing.

But, coupled with Hansen's increased water use is an apparent diminishing supply.

Hansen gets its water from a deep well. Up to a few years ago, the supply was adequate for the demand. Two or three years ago, the water table around Hansen took a sudden drop of between 20 and 30 feet. The cause for this drop never has been established but there are many persons who feel the increase in the number of irrigation wells on the south side has something to do with it.

When the water table dropped, Hansen met the problem by extending the pipe in the well. But once again, the village isn't getting enough water to meet the increased demand. The problem this time is not one of a lowering water table but is caused by the inability of the pump on the well to keep up with the water use.

The Hansen village board has asked the aid of the county health unit in solving the problem. There are three alternatives. One is to use water from the well at the school if legal technicalities do not stand in the way; another is to put a larger pump on the existing well and the third alternative is to drill a new well.

Small stature may prove to be a handicap to some people but not for two "small mighties" at the JEROME 4-H fair. These two will vie for honors at the district fair in Jerome Sept. 12, 13 and 14.

Larry Rookstool, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Rookstool of the Hunt area, competed in the dairy division in the fitting and showing contest. He is small for his age and has been in 4-H work for only a little more than a year and a half. He won a blue ribbon in his division and went on to compete for the top showman award in the dairy class.

In the final judging, Larry was competing with veterans and the winner, Carlyle Moeller, had been in 4-H for more than four years. The judge, the county agent from Ada county, was in a real quandary. After much deliberation he chose the three top showmen and then asked that Larry be presented a blue ribbon as reserve champion along with Shana Thornton, HAZELTON. The judge explained that Larry actually had the best fitted animal and took time to describe the correctness of the fitting, but the judge placed the other two youngsters ahead of the boy because they were able to handle their animals a little better.

Another youngster who drew favorable comment from a judge was 12-year-old Bobbie Silvers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Silvers. Bobbie won his praise for his project on tractor maintenance. He is a miniature 13-year-old and looks as though he'd have a hard time riding a bicycle, let alone driving a tractor. But his project was judged the best in his division. He helps his father a lot on the farm and also has 4-H livestock projects. One such project paid off so well about two years ago he purchased a television set for his family.

of them and on the heated ground to settle the dust.

Near the pits is a large, pot-bellied coffee boiler on a stove that is crammed with wood every few minutes. Charles Johnstone has presided at the coffeepot so many years he knows exactly how many two-pound sacks of coffee are required to make the brew just right.

Below the pits and the coffee pots are long tables stacked with buns and barbecue sauce. Like a long serpent, the line of visitors winds through the cottonwoods in the park on the way to the feast.

While the visitors sit in their cars, around camp tables or on blankets spread on the ground, they are entertained by music by the Ram Trio, Johnny Lister, Hap Miller's orchestra or the music of Joe Snow—all headliners from Sun Valley. The afternoon is finished off with a musical program on an improvised stage along the river and in the evening there are street sports and a dance.

"It's the most unique thing I've ever seen," a woman from Los Angeles remarked this year.

Alarm Answered

HAGERMAN, Sept. 7 — Firemen answered an alarm at the Juan Moore home Thursday evening, after the Moores left for the Twin Falls county fair, leaving a kettle of jam on the electric stove and by mistake turning the switch to "high" instead of "off."

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Martin saw smoke pouring from the house and called the fire department. Martin then broke a lock on a screen door and removed the smoking kettle before anything else caught fire.

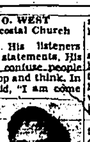
"The Way of Life"

By HOWARD O. WEST
Pastor, First Pentecostal Church

Jesus confronted His listeners with many startling statements. His purpose was not to confuse people but to make them stop and think. In John 10:10, Jesus said, "I am come that you might have life and that you might have it more abundantly."



Rev. West

The one supreme urge of every heart is to live. Man is forever in search of "the fountain of youth." We have searched and looked feverishly in every direction but the right one.

The story is told of a lady who one day was walking down a walk when she glanced down and there was a big, shiny, silver dollar looking up at her. The rest of her life she spent looking down. When she totaled up the result at the end of her life it was a few buttons, several pennies and a few odd and worthless trinkets. This was her reward.

She had missed the beauties of the sunrise and the many sunsets. She had not seen for years the mountains and the trees. She had spent her life looking down. It is not what we have that brings true happiness, it is what we are.

The Apostle Paul in his epistle to the Romans wrote, "The Kingdom of God is not in meat and drink but righteousness, peace and joy in the Holy Ghost."

The way up is down. The way to live is to die. This was Jesus' teaching. What a paradox! One man said, "I used to think that God's gifts were on shelves one above the other. The higher you climb, the higher you reach, the more you find. Since then I have learned the error of my philosophy, I have found since that God's gifts are on shelves one below the other. The lower you stoop the more you find." Jesus taught "He who would humble himself would be exalted."

In Mathew 16:24, 25, Jesus said unto His disciples, "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it."

Jesus placed His finger on the root cause of all His disciples' troubles, "self." The perpendicular pronoun, I, and the personal pronouns, me, myself, etc., are all too prominent in our conversation.

We speak glowingly in terms of "my farm," "my home," "my family," but can we say with Job, "The Lord giveth, and the Lord taketh away, blessed be the name of the Lord." We are born with an inherent tendency to live selfishly and to think in terms only of our own interests. When the cross of Christ falls across our own life then there are tremendous adjustments to be made. Only the power of the Holy Spirit dwelling within our lives can change us. That change must come inwardly. It takes place within our heart.

I once read of an Indian "sadu," a holy man, who was traveling with two companions in the Himalayas one bleak, cold winter day. As they hurried along toward a distant village, the temperature dropped, the wind increased and it became extremely doubtful that they would make it. Suddenly the sadu noticed the still form of a fallen traveler by the wayside. He hesitated, then stopped while his two companions hurried on their way.

He stooped down and struggled with the still inert form and gradually with great effort he got him back to the trail and on his shoulders. He staggered down the trail with him, which by this time was almost covered by the fast falling snow.

It was not long until he stepped across the fallen forms of his two companions. In seeking to save themselves they had lost.

The sadu struggled on his way and ere long he stumbled into the village to warmth and safety. Not only did he save himself, but he saved the life of the unknown man he carried. In stooping to bear the burden of another, with the risk of losing his own life, he had saved himself.

Let us bring this truth home to the heart of all who are Jesus disciples. "He that will save his life shall lose it, and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it," Jesus said.

T. D. Walker Dies at Filer At Age of 87

FILER, Sept. 7—Thomas Dudley Walker, 87-year-old former minister, died at 2:40 p.m. Friday in Magic Valley Memorial hospital.

Born Nov. 4, 1869, at Athens, Ill., he came to Idaho in 1918. He had been minister of Mennonite Brethren in Christ in eastern Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska. Mr. Walker farmed in the Buhl area until 1943 until he moved to Filer where he lived since. On Jan. 1, 1901, he married Eva Miller. She preceded him in death in 1936 and in 1937 he married Ruth Dexter.

Survivors, in addition to the widow, are three sons, Earl E. Walker, Twin Falls; Roy T. Walker, San Bernardino, Calif., and D. Wayne Walker, Buhl; seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Filer United Missionary church by the Rev. J. K. Meyers. Concluding services will be held at Filer IOOF cemetery. Friends may call at Twin Falls mortuary from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday.

Silage Quality Fixed at Start

Quality of silage is usually determined within a few hours after it is put up because that's when fermentation takes place, according to C. W. Daigh, Twin Falls county agent.

Daigh has data from the department of agriculture showing that forage tramped, weighed, and immediately sealed to keep out air makes the best silage. Tests showed the oxygen present was used up by bacteria and plant enzymes within five hours. Conditions then became favorable for other bacteria to begin the process of preservation, by changing sugars into lactic, acetic and succinic acids.

On the other hand, forage left loose and unsealed for two days was spoiled, Daigh says. The spoilage was even more severe when air was forced through the forage. Such forage heated abnormally the first few days and finally lost nutrients and much of the lactic acid needed for effective preservation. As undesirable bacteria increased they converted proteins into ammonia, hydrogen sulfide and other offensive substances.

High temperature is an early symptom of spoiling silage, the county agent said. When you keep out the air you control this heat and encourage proper fermentation.

Richfield School Election Is Held

RICHFIELD, Sept. 7—Class officers and cheer-leaders for Richfield high school were elected Thursday.

Senior officers are George Ray Schisler, president; Jeanette DeGlee, vice president; Judy Alexander, secretary; Julia Lemmon, treasurer, and Dallas Ward, representative. Alfred Daniels was named sponsor.

Larry Stubbs was elected president for the junior class; Jean Jansen, vice president, and Cheryl Sweat, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Orin Neild was chosen sponsor.

The sophomore class chose LeRoy Johnson as president; Marilyn Walker, vice president; Tracy Hansen, secretary-treasurer; Edwin Reece, representative, and Mrs. Lee Woods, sponsor.

Jean Price is freshman class president; Douglas Sluder, vice president; Maxine Brown, secretary; Maxine Behr, treasurer, and Charles A. Brown, sponsor.

Margaret Ann Stirten, Sandra Rubsmith and Laura Freeman were named cheerleaders.

Student body election has not been held. Representatives from the junior and freshman classes have not been selected.

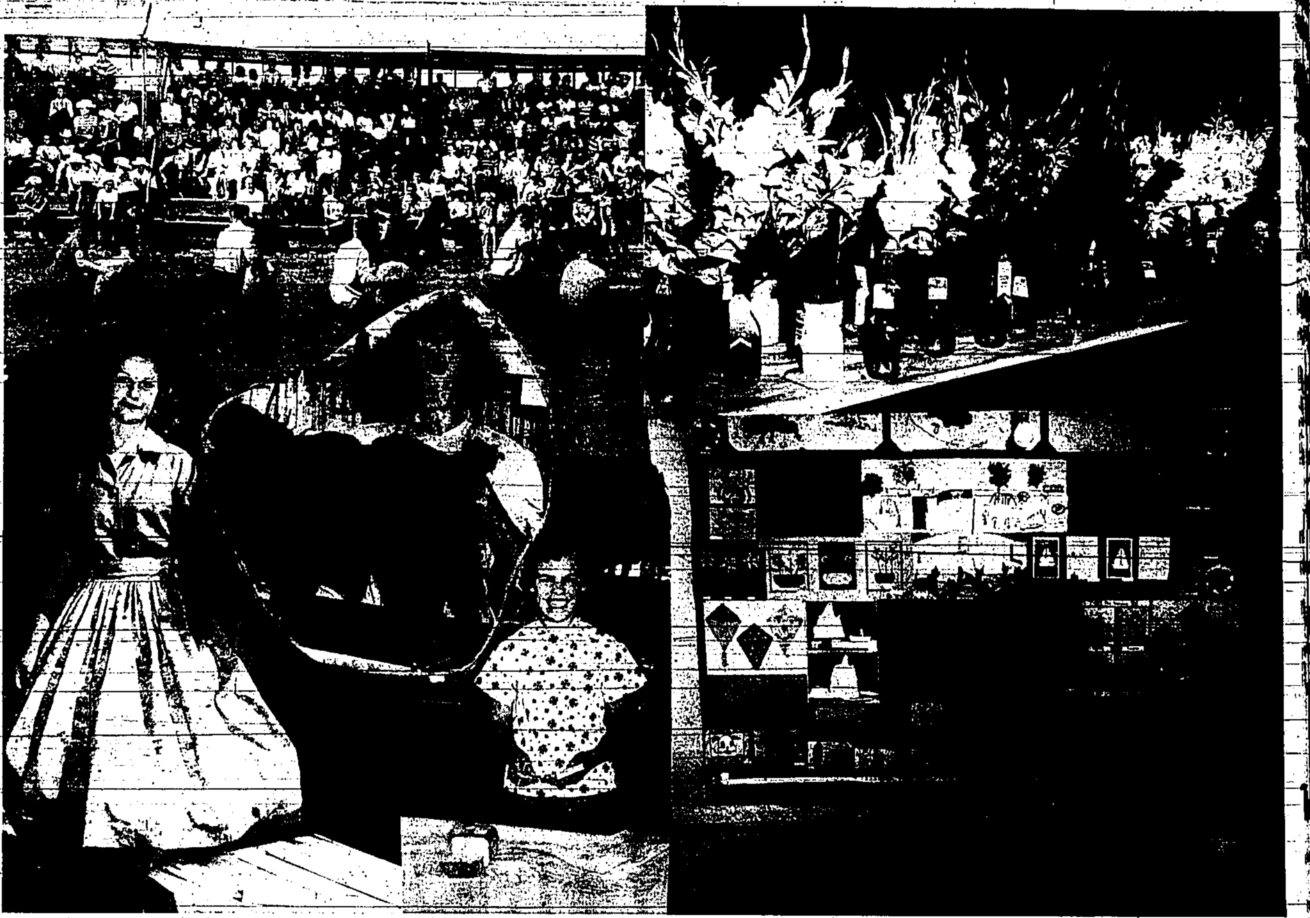
Varied Exhibits, Displays and Demonstrations Mark Closing Days of Twin Falls County Fair for 1957 at Filer



Various activities and displays were evident during the closing days of the Twin Falls county fair. At top left, FFA and 4-H youths crowd grandstand to judge fat sheep. Also judged were swine, dairy cattle and beef cattle. At top right is exhibit of gladiola in the flower section. Shown at bottom right is display of coloring and pasting projects prepared by members of the first, second and third grades at the F. H. Buhl school in Buhl. Joy Shepherd, 14, member of the Learning Lassies 4-H club of Hansen, models her skirt and blouse, lower left, during home economics style revue. Inset shows Mrs. Russell Peterson, Mountain Home, giving exhibition of clipping French Poodle owned by Mrs. Ray McKinster, Kimberly. Susan Irwin, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Irwin, Kimberly, pauses at bottom center in middle of bread-judging. She is a member of the Buzzy Cookers 4-H club, Kimberly. Sugar Beet Seed for Use in Magic Valley Harvested in Oregon

Three truckloads of sugar beet seed arrive at warehouse in Salem, Ore., as harvest hits peak. Farmers grow beet seed under contract for planting in 14 states and two foreign countries. Plant at which seed is being delivered is new $150,000 installation of the West Coast Beet Seed company, owned by several sugar beet companies. Sugar beet seed has high cash value, but can be raised only in certain climates, such as that in the Salem vicinity. (Staff engraving)

Sugar Beet Seed for Use Here Being Harvested, Processed Now in Oregon

SALEM, Ore., Sept. 7 (Special)—Sugar beet seed, much of it to be planted next spring in Idaho's Magic Valley, is being harvested this week and cleaned at the new $150,000 West Coast beet seed plant, according to Sam Campbell, manager of the newest and most modern beet seed operation in the nation.

Campbell said his company, which is owned and operated by eight major American beet sugar producers, including the Amalgamated Sugar company which has factories at Twin Falls and Rupert, expects a harvest of 2¼ million pounds of seed in the Salem area this summer. After cleaning, the yield is estimated at 1¾ million pounds of seed.

Mike Youngquist dumps bag of sugar beet seed at start of cleaning process in Salem, Ore., plant. Seed is moved by air suction in mechanical cleaners, drops from these into fresh bag and then is shipped to 14 states and two foreign countries for further processing and planting. Seed used in Magic Valley is shipped to Amalgamated Sugar company plant in Ogden where chemicals are added to seed. (Staff engraving)

That portion of the crop to be supplied Amalgamated growers in southern Idaho will first go through the Amalgamated processing plant at Ogden for addition of pesticides and fungicides, sizing for uniformity to fit seed drills, and ultimate distribution to growers.

Seed from West Coast is shipped to growers in 14 of the 22 sugar beet producing states in this country, plus two foreign countries, Canada and Germany. Campbell estimated the seed handled at Salem this year will be sufficient to plant about 230,000 acres to sugar beets, which in turn will produce some 4 million tons of beets, at current rates, worth at least 56 million dollars cash income to growers.

Campbell said this year his company is harvesting 95 different varieties of sugar beet seed, about half of them in commercial quantities adapted to the varying growing conditions in the areas to which the seed will be sent for planting.

Balance of the varieties are in experimental stages ranging from brand new types in early development to others moving into commercial use. Among the latter are the monogerms and hybrids, both of which are already undergoing field tests in the Magic Valley growing areas.

Monogerm is the seed which produces a single plant rather than clusters and is so far being credited with making possible cutting spring thinning work and costs about in half, a major benefit to growers.

According to agricultural experts, the hybrids are expected to increase per-acre production of sugar beets as greatly as did corn hybrids step up corn production when introduced a number of years ago.

The United States has produced its own sugar beet seed only for a little more than 20 years, prior to which all seed was imported. The American industry's establishment followed discovery in the 1930's of what is called the "over wintering" process of seed production. Among the scientists who developed this method and founded sugar beet seed growing in this country was Harry A. Elcock, Twin Falls, Amalgamated manager in Magic Valley.

Elcock, then in plant breeding work in New Mexico, was placed in charge of one of the earliest seed producing projects and is credited with being one of the men responsible for success of the important work.

It was found that sugar beets planted in late summer or fall, in a climate where winter temperatures were comparatively mild, would go into a dormant stage during the winter, resume growth the following spring and "bolt", or produce seed. Winter temperature lows had to be just enough to halt growth, but not kill the plants.

Prior to discovery of this method, the beet's natural reproduction cycle of two years was followed. Seed beets were planted in the spring, the roots harvested in the fall and stored in silos, then re-planted the following spring for a seed crop that fall. The new method has cut time required almost in half and has made seed production economically feasible in this country.

The Central Willamette valley of Oregon, certain areas in California, Phoenix, Ariz., and St. George, Utah, have been found to provide climatic conditions needed for beet seed production and are the centers of the industry today.

The Salem plant just placed in operation receives seed from farmers with whom contracts specifying varieties and quantity have previously been made. Cash income to these growers is comparable with that from their cannery and other row crops, making beet seed production highly desirable in the area.

Varieties developed by the plant breeders, and those just coming into widespread use, are important to the increasing efficiency of the nation's beet industry, which already is the world's most efficent in terms of man-hours required to produce a given quantity of sugar.

Girls Make Rally Plans for School

Plans were made Thursday for the big and little sister rally to be held Thursday at Twin Falls high school.

Purpose of the rally is to orient sophomores and welcome new girls to the school. A picnic is planned on the front lawn and skits will be given by each class.

General chairmen are Miriam Breckenridge and Marilyn Routh. Chairmen on skits are Linda Lackey and Beverly Bucklin, seniors; Marilyn Tolk, Angie Arrfen and Carol Lindemier, juniors, and Virginia Dillon and Mary Robertson, sophomores.

Live With Angina

Heart Disorder Victims Can Have Bright Future

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, MD
Written for NEA Service

Fortunately most of us do not anticipate unpleasant events, including illness.

However, this means, among other things, that people do not as a rule become interested in a disorder until they or someone near to them have it. I presume it's for this reason that several people have inquired recently about angina pectoris.

Among the questions which confuse them is the relationship of angina pectoris to coronary thrombosis.

A coronary thrombosis is a compete blocking of one of the blood vessels supplying the heart. It is not the same as angina pectoris, though some people who have had a coronary thrombosis will also have symptoms of angina.

The meaning of the name of angina pectoris is simply "pain in the chest." But it is applied by physicians to a condition in which insufficient amounts of blood are flowing through the coronary arteries to the heart muscle.

If these vessels develop spasms—or more commonly if the passageways are partly narrowed—there will be times when not enough blood passes through them. The needs of the heart muscle for blood are not satisfied, and the pain of angina pectoris develops.

In typical instances, the pain is likely to be absent when the person with angina is resting. Pain is usually first noticed when the heart is pumping rapidly as happens when exercising (climbing stairs or running for a bus, for example). Under such circumstances, the heart needs larger quantities of blood than it does when resting.

The patient with angina may also have a feeling of anxiety, shortness of breath and cold, clammy sweating. A person who has angina pectoris must, therefore, learn how much exercise can be taken without producing symptoms.

Many victims of angina learn how to live with their hearts and have little or no discomfort and are able to continue most of their activities. Indeed, the outlook for patients with angina is by no means unfavorable.

The treatment of angina pectoris has likewise improved. The amount and nature of exercise which can be tolerated can be more closely calculated than in the past. Also, there are several drugs which will usually help the victim, though drugs do not cure the underlying cause.

A word should be said about surgery. Not every victim of angina is suitable for heart surgery, but it has been used with good results in some.

The major purpose of such surgery is to stimulate the formation of new blood vessels to the heart muscle to replace those which have been narrowed.

Canned vitamin talk

Any day now a door-to-door peddler may ring your bell and try to sell you some vitamins or nutritional supplements. He will be very convincing because he's a trained salesman. But keep this in mind. It is quite unlikely that your physician would ever prescribe his product. No matter what the peddler says, chances are, he lacks professional knowledge of what he's selling. So, if you need vitamin preparations (your physician is the best judge) get them from a registered pharmacist. Then you know what you're getting and you get your money's worth every time.

Probably the chief attraction for the younger set attending the Twin Falls county fair Wednesday through Saturday was the carnival. Crowded midway is shown at top left, while four girls pause in photo at top right with their ice cream cones. From left, they are Colleen Bryan, Irene D'Arcy and Lula Mae Killinger, all Twin Falls. At bottom left, Kathy Dixon, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Rixon, Buhl, hangs on tight during boat ride in big tank of water. Doris Egglestrom, 10, and Cheryl Rosmeranta, 8, both Buhl, get a bang out of riding on Ferris wheel, lower center, while ever-popular merry-go-round packs them in at bottom, right. Fair Board Head Speaks on Event

BUHL, Sept. 7 — Curtis Eaton, chairman of the fair board, spoke about the fair to the Buhl Rotary club Thursday afternoon.

Six high school teachers were guests at the meeting—George Goodner, Edward Schenk, Hulin Stayton, Donald Dibble, Paul Brown and Ephriam Hackett.

Other visitors were Jack Pence, Arroy Grande, Calif., and Ed Meyer, Salt Lake City.

Visitors Return

HAGERMAN, Sept. 7—Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Neyman returned Thursday from visiting her sister, Mrs. O. H. Shearer, at Salinas, Calif., and her twin brother, Paul Gisler, Baily, Calif.

They took their daughter, Pat, who had just completed an X-ray technician course at St. Alphonsus hospital, to begin her new job at Monterey hospital, Monterey, Calif., and brought back their daughter, Lita Rae, who had spent three months with her aunt, Mrs. Scott.

Big Potatoes Harvested

Mrs. Earl Cook, route 1, Twin Falls, holds three Minnesota red potatoes which average over two pounds each. The giant potatoes were grown on property the Cooks farm on the Hunt project in Jerome county. Identical seed was planted on their farm northwest of Twin Falls but potatoes did not get as large as those grown in Jerome county. (Staff photo-engraving)

Giant Red Potatoes Harvested From Field Located Near Hunt

A crop of giant Minnesota reds was grown this year by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cook, route 1, Twin Falls, on property they farm on the Hunt project in Jerome county.

Several of the big red spuds average over two pounds each. Mrs. Cook says sometimes four of the giants, along with a few smaller ones, are found in each hill. The soil in which they planted potatoes last spring was used as pasture last year. No commercial fertilizers were used.

Potatoes from the same seed are being grown on their property northwest of Twin Falls but are not as large as the Hunt project potatoes.

Vines of the big potatoes are still fresh and green and all of the potatoes have not been dug.

The remainder of the planting is expected to run as large as those already dug.

Mrs. Cook says there was no special care or treatment of the soil. "We just planted, irrigated and let them grow," she said.

GRENADE EXPLODES

BELGRADE, Sept. 7 (UP) — Six Yugoslav shepherd children were killed Friday by a World war II hand grenade. They found it while tending their sheep and it exploded when they tried to open it.

Doubt Shown By Decline of Stock Trades

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (AP)—Wall reet this week showed its ex- eme doubt concerning the imme- ate outlook for business as stock arket trading sank to its lowest ls in nearly four years.

Traders and investors, large and nall, stayed out of the market in roves. They were awaiting some efinite clue as to whether the next arket trend would be up or down; nd no clue came.

Average Dwindles

The daily average of shares aded on the New York stock exchange dwindled to 1,369,792, the owest since the week ended Nov. 20, 53, when the average was 1,344,- 01.

The financial community, having ssed the Labor day week-end, was oking for some indication of future prospects to follow that traditional turning point. It was a wait- nd-see market.

Values Decline

While the investing public waited, ock-market values drifted downward. Although buying interest was cking, there was no particular lling pressure.

The Associated Press average of stocks declined $2.20 to $173.50. This erased the gains made in last eek's surprising pre-holiday advance. But the low volume robbed e decline of any but monetary gnificance.

World Unrest Boosts Grain Market Price

CHICAGO, Sept. 7 (AP)—International developments reverberated on e board of trade this week and as result grain and soybean futures ded higher than a week ago.

Major influence on the market as the Middle East situation in hich Syria was reported likely to ecome part of the Soviet orbit and potential threat to world peace.

Although other factors such as e usual weather and crop news, ort-covering and hedge-selling ntered the market picture, the iddle East situation was uppermost in the minds of traders most the week.

As a result, wheat ended the four- y trading week 1½ to 2¾ cents a ushel higher than Friday a week go. Corn advanced 1⅛ to 3½ cents, ts were up ⅝ to 1⅝, rye up 2⅞ 4¼, soybeans ¼ to 2¾ higher d lard declined 17 to 30 cents a undred pounds.

Church Planning 'School at Home'

SHOSHONE, Sept. 7—A new program, "Church School at Home," will be launched in the Methodist church Oct. 1.

The project is an endeavor to reach the hundreds of families who cannot attend church.

Under the new plan Sunday school lesson leaflets and study booklet will be sent free to any family unable to attend a church school for each age group. Parents must guide their children's study in the home.

Any family may enroll by sending their name and address to Church School at Home, post office box 871, Nashville, Tenn. The application should include the ages and school grades of the children. There is no charge.

VISIT REPORTED

SHOSHONE, Sept. 7 — Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Magleby, Pocatello, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Barney, Thursday and Friday.

CITED ON DRUNKENNESS

BURLEY, Sept. 7 — Pablo J. Florez was arrested by Officer Charles Givens for being intoxicated in a car on a public highway. Bond was set at $50.
